Major break in line

Another major sanitary sewer break and new difficulties in the sewer line and lift station serving the Archer Daniels Midland plant on Carroll Road created mounting sewer problems for Granite City officials Tuesday.

The sewer break, which was described as "very serious," developed in the Crossroads Plaza Shopping Center when a driveway section of the parking lot between the Schnuck's store and Sambo's Restaurant collapsed Monday night.

Street Superintendent Lionel Portell told City Council members Tuesday night that he will make further tests to determine the extent of the rupture to the sanitary line, but that it appeared to him that the break "is a bad one."

Portell said the sewer line at that point is 14 feet deep and that the break is about one and a half feet below the water table. He said he expects to begin by-pass pumping soon, although the sewage still appeared to be flowing Tuesday afternoon. The University will select 8 scholars

As part of its belief that "private financial support can provide the margin of excellence for a university," Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville is launching a presidential scholars program.

The first eight recipients are to be designated for the fall 1978 term, SIUE President Kenneth A. Shaw disclosed at a luncheon here yesterday with representatives of Quad-City area businesses.

Hosts for the gathering were William Donovan and Paul Kelly, Jul M. Fischer Sr., president of the SIUE Foundation, president and Harold R. Fischer introduced the principal speaker, Dr. Shaw.

Presidential scholarships assure full tuition and fees for four years as well as a guarantee of employment for up to 20 hours each week in the student's main field of interest. In addition, key SIUE personnel will consult regularly with the scholars on their progress and concerns. Pres. Shaw said selections will be made from a wide spectrum, including talented musicians, along with academic leaders and those who have displayed leadership skills. The common denominator

Burned critically

Tom Gaudreault, 19, of Granite City, was burned critically at 4:30 p.m. Monday when his gasoline-soaked overalls in which he was working on a car in a St. Louis garage, caught fire.

The youth, a senior at Granite City High School North and son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Gaudreault, 4130 Division Ave., suffered second and third degree burns over 40 percent of his body.

He was taken to Firms Desloge Hospital, St. Louis, where he was placed in the intensive care unit. A member of his family said he will be a patient in the hospital for at least several months and will need to undergo extensive skin grafts and other surgery. Exact cause of the fire was not determined, but the blaze ignited gasoline which the youth had been draining from an auto that was under repair.

The garage building occupied by Mohawk Auto Parts, 12th Street and Grand Avenue, St.

Sell sewer bonds; interest favorable

Sanitary sewers for many unserved areas of Chouteau, Nameoki and Venice townships came a major step closer this week as an acceptable bid for purchasing the project's bonds was received and opened Tuesday afternoon, and the Madison County Board on Wednesday morning accepted the bid and sold the bonds.

The bid on bond interest was regarded as favorable in view of the newness of the state legislation under which the project is to be carried out.

The board authorized Madison County Board Chairman Nelson Hagnauer of Granite City to sign a letter of intent with the G. H. Sternberg and S. M. Wilson construction firms to guarantee that a construction contract will be signed with them as soon as the money from the bond sale is received.

Bonds will be printed immediately and then turned over to the consortium of 17 financial institutions which has agreed to purchase the $5 million worth of general obligation bonds. As soon as the bond funds have been received and deposited in a construction account, the Illinois and U.S. Environmental Protection Agency staffs will be requested to release a $12,600,000 grant so construction can begin.

"The bonds have been sold and the contractor is ready to go."

If we can get the bonds printed, the money in the bank and some other paperwork done, we can begin construction by May 1 if not before," Harry E. Hartman, attorney for the Madison County special sewer committee, told the Press-Record yesterday.

A spokesman for the contractors said they could begin construction as soon as April 15 if the necessary steps are completed by then.

The bonds were sold at an average interest rate of 8.8893 percent, which is lower than the county had anticipated when it first held public hearings on the sewer project.

Estimates at that time were based on 7.5 percent interest on the $5 million.

The bonds are general obligation bonds and must be repaid by the residents and landowners of the special service area which is to be served by the sewers. Court battles waged by some of those residents delayed the project more than 16 months, and this will have an effect on the first interest payment that will have to be paid, Hartman said.

During the first year's tax collection, property owners will be responsible for paying interest accumulated from April 1, 1978, to June 1, 1980.

The tax rate to homeowners will be about $1 per $100 assessed valuation after the first year and it is predicted the rate will be down substantially before the bonds are retired in 1993.

The tax rate will decrease as the assessed valuation of the area increases and as the amount owed on outstanding bonds decreases.

The assessed valuation base is expected to climb sharply once the sewers are in use, with increased industry and residential development.

Parts swap challenged

A system of "trading" truck parts and services in the repair of Granite City street department vehicles, without billings or payments, was challenged Tuesday night by members of the City Council who said they believed that Street Superintendent Lionel Portell should initiate new procedures for such operations.

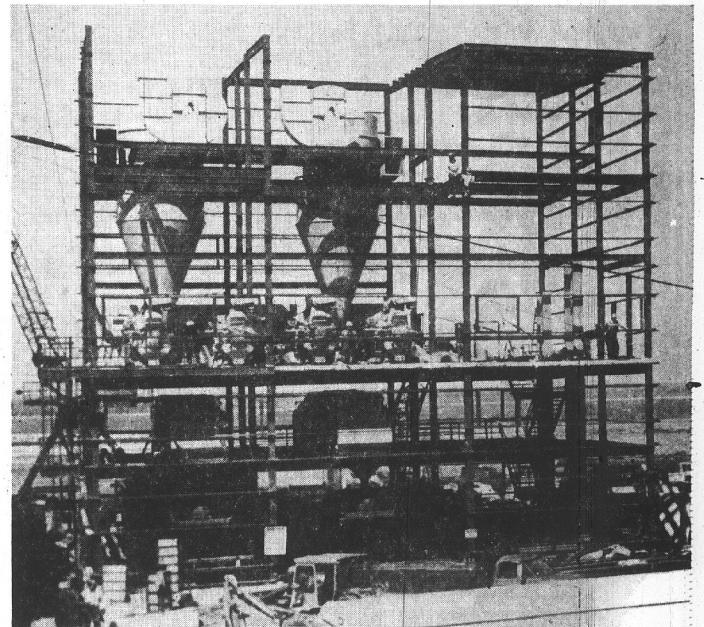

The matter came under discussion after Portell told the council that the department had a particular problem in repairing a transmission on a truck and that he had been unable thus far to locate the parts needed for repairs.

In response to a question by Alderman Ronald Coleman, Portell said that some trucks have been repaired by "trading" parts from old-truck models with Miller's Garage, 2039 Missouri Ave.

"We have done that a number of times in the past," Portell said, explaining that parts from

PELLETIZING PLANT of the I. S. Joseph Co., Minneapolis, Minn., is seen under construction at the Tri-City Port Tuesday morning. The plant is designed to make small pellets out of grain to be exported to other parts of the world. The pelletizing makes the grain easier to handle and can be utilized in the mixing of up to three types of grain into one pellet. The plant is being built adjacent to the Chain of Rocks canal. Grain will be taken from barges on the canal, made into pellets then loaded back onto the barges. A large one-story warehouse structure is also under construction at this time.

Stallings growth pattern—parents

By GARY SCHNEIDER
Press-Record Staff Writer

"Food for thought" on the proposed closing of Stallings School and the reassignment of its 268 students to other schools was given by parents and Stallings area residents during a public hearing Tuesday night at Grigsby Junior High School.

Granite City Board of Education President Tom Miesky explained that the proposal to close the school was developed by an advisory committee.

"It is now up to the committee to sell the proposal to us," he stated. A decision will be made April 11.

About 110 persons attended the public hearing, most attempting to keep the 71-year-old school open, even though it needs a new roof and a new septic tank system. Badly-needed repairs will cost the district about $30,000, Frank Kraus, assistant superintendent of schools, estimated.

Mrs. Alisia Seipel told the board she is a descendant of the family which gave the land to the school district for Stallings School in 1906 and contended the deed stipulates that the property reverts back to the heirs if not used as a school.

Miesky said the district's trustees told the deed, not the school board, and pledged that the wording of the deed will be checked before a final decision

Identify body of drowning victim as Robt. McCosky

The body of Robert P. McCosky, 53, of 2818 Victory Drive, was identified Monday in Ste. Genevieve, Mo., where his remains were found in the Mississippi River at 1:45 p.m. Monday, March 20.

Mr. McCosky disappeared while fishing near Mosenheim Island in mid-November. An employee of the St. Louis public waterworks plant on Riverview Drive told authorities he saw a man with a boat on the rocks at the northern tip of the island and watched as the boat began to drift away in the current of the Mississippi River.

The witness said the man took off his outer clothing and waded out into the river, attempting to retrieve the boat. He disappeared beneath the surface and did not reappear.

The U.S. Coast Guard and the Alton and Wood River volunteer rescue squads, aided by a St. Louis County Police helicopter and several small boats, searched for the man for two days.

Mr. McCosky was a lifelong resident of Granite City. He was employed for 28 years as an electrician at Granite City Steel.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Esther McCosky; two sons, Daniel and David McCosky, both of Pinckneyville, Ill.; three daughters, Mrs. Joseph (Ruth Ann) Holder and Mrs. Robert (Donna J.) Bostic, both of Pinckneyville, and Miss Darlene McCosky of Granite City; two brothers, Jim McCosky of Pontana, Calif., and Tom McCosky of Venice; six sisters, Mrs. Mary Slaggs, Miss Helen McCosky and Mrs. Tony (Betty) Fecurka, all of Granite City, Mrs. Carl (Kate) Harris, Dover, Tenn., Mrs. Bill (Dorothy) Jenkins, Ladue, Mo., and Mrs. Shirley Brochus, Phoenix, Ariz., his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert (Alice) McCosky of Granite City; and four grandchildren.

Funeral services were held today. Details are given in the obituary column.

$2.8 million bid on work at Arch site

Bids from five concerns on Gateway Arch site development were received and opened at the National Park Service office in St. Louis last week. The apparent low bidder, Superintendent Robert S. Chandler said, is Schuster Engineering, Inc., at $2,800,149.

The bids ranged up to $3,688,447.

Principal features of the work under this bid include site development involving excavation, grading and adding topsoil; seeding and fertilizing; construction of irrigation systems, walkways, ponds, underdrains and utilities; walkway lighting; and the relocation of a maintenance building.

Time for completion of the work is 540 days after contract.

Clarify status of dealer in house incident

An incident in which an out-of-town couple who own a house here say they have been unable to obtain a key to their property from a man retained to handle sale of the home involved a real estate broker who is not a member of the Real Estate Board, it was reported Tuesday.

Ray Kaegel, a director of the Real Estate Board, said the designation of the dealer involved in the case as a "realtor" was in error since a realtor is a copyrighted designation of a duly registered member of the Real Estate Board.

"The man involved in this case is not a realtor and is not a member of the board," Kaegel said. "We understand that the man involved is a real estate broker who is licensed by the Illinois Department of Registration. Our board has no jurisdiction over these brokers."

Police said earlier this week they are investigating the case in which Mr. and Mrs. Olin Gibson of Washington, Ill., reported that several items are missing from the house which they offered for sale through the broker. They also have been unable to locate the broker to obtain a key to the house which they had asked him to leave with a neighbor.

While they were in Granite City attempting to locate the real estate broker, two persons appeared at the house at different times and said they were waiting to occupy the house as they had paid earnest money in a sales transaction, police were told.

540 feet of guard rail to be installed

Approximately 540 feet of metal guard rail are to be installed by the Granite City Street Department at three locations as added safety for motorists.

Erection of the guard rail was made possible by action of the City Council in authorizing the purchase of 100 wood posts at a cost of $744 and 200 sets of lag screws and washers at a cost of $200.

Edward Schulze, city traffic engineer, told the aldermen that the street department had acquired the steel guard rail but did not have posts or fasteners for construction.

The council concurred in a request by Schulze that the posts and fasteners be purchased at the total cost of $994 to permit the work to be completed.

The guard rail installation will include 200 feet on High Street to St. Clair Avenue, 300 feet on Fehling Road and 40 feet on Del Rio Avenue.

Guilty verdict on reckless homicide

Richard A. Miller, 23, of Wood River was found guilty on two counts of reckless homicide in a verdict by a criminal court jury in the Third Judicial Circuit Court in Edwardsville Tuesday night.

Miller, a student at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, was charged in connection with the deaths of Marjorie Joan Wilson, 22, of Glenmo, Mo., and Wayne D. Dickinson, 22, of Creve Coeur, Mo., Aug. 17, 1977. The victims were fatally injured in a traffic accident on the SIUE campus.

The jury, which began hearing the case March 20, deliberated four and half hours before returning the verdict at 8 p.m. He is to be sentenced at a later date.

Miller, who has been free under $20,000 cash bond and $20,000 recognizance bond, was indicted by a Madison County grand jury on Oct. 6, 1977.

According to an investigation by university police, he was southbound on University Drive and had passed another vehicle at high speed when his vehicle struck Miss Wilson's northbound car head-on.

Miss Wilson was pronounced dead at the scene. Dickinson, who was driving her car, was dead on arrival at Anderson Hospital, Maryville.

Miss Wilson, a reporter for the St. Charles Banner-News, and Dickinson were enroute to a performance of the Mississippi River Festival when the accident occurred.

Fire destroys mobile home; $18,000 damage

Fire of undetermined origin destroyed the double-wide mobile home of Carl Pollard, 885a Thorngate Drive, Mitchell, early Tuesday morning.

Mitchell Fire Chief Lee Paul said the department received the call at 12:48 a.m.

The family was not at home when the fire started, apparently in the kitchen, Paul said.

Damage was estimated at $18,000.

Paul said firemen were at the scene for nearly two hours.

Priest says he will not comply with sentence

The Rev. Edwin F. Arensen, a Belleville diocese priest who was sentenced here after a jury conviction on charges of disorderly conduct resulting from a disturbance at the Hope Clinic for Women, told Associate Judge Thomas R. Gibbons Tuesday that he does not intend to comply with the sentence.

The priest's pronouncement that he will neither meet terms of a probation period or perform services or counseling at the Madison County Jail during the 30 consecutive weekends to perform his priestly duties and counsel the inmates.

At noon Tuesday Judge Gibbons agreed to meet with Rev. Arensen, after pointing out that he was on his lunch hour, but he first called in Assistant State's Attorney Casper Nighoshian.

Nighoshian prosecuted Rev. Arensen in the February trial. Rev. Arensen asked the judge, who is Catholic, what he thought God thought about abortion.

Judge Gibbons said that he would not get into any discussion on the topic and asked the priest to get to the point of his visit.

The priest then told Judge Gibbons that he has not and will not comply with the sentence.

carry "which might make them feel more guilty."

Rev. Arensen was found guilty Feb. 16 by a jury on a charge of disorderly conduct from a disturbance outside the clinic on Jan. 19.

He was sentenced by Judge Gibbons to 18 months probation with a condition that the priest visit the Madison County Jail for 30 consecutive weekends to perform his priestly duties and counsel the inmates.

University

will be early success and achievement rather than "late blooming" students in this particular program, it was explained.

The University of Chicago, I'm sure, is glad that it had the opportunity to educate U.S. Senator Charles Percy. We expect to include similarly outstanding young people in our program," Dr. Shaw commented.

Stressing the role of SIUE as a regional university, Dr. Shaw said that during his 15 months here he has outlined plans "to help make SIUE the very best of its kind anywhere."

"The margin of excellence between a good and a great university lies in the level of private sector."

"In a highly complex society, fraught with serious problems, we cannot accept a failure of public service in regard to education. If we do, we are doing something far more damaging than settling for less than the best."

"The most dramatic of all the changes that have taken place in this area of Illinois has been the growth of SIUE. With your help, it can become an even more outstanding institution of higher education in the years ahead."

The native Granite Cityan continued, "With funds contributed to the presidential scholar program, the university will be able to assist and attract outstanding students in many academic fields."

"Through contributions of alumni and friends, this program can help a top mathematics student, a future leader in nursing, an exceptional graduate student in business or a budding concert artist."

"The need is great and the resources are unlimited. Gifts of any size, when added together, can make a significant impact in building the presidential scholar program."

Dr. Shaw said it is the hope of SIUE to have 50 presidential scholars within a five-year period.

He added, "Friends who may wish to establish an endowed, self-perpetuating presidential scholarship named for an individual or a discipline may discuss this with the SIUE Foundation."

"The university also needs unrestricted money to help maintain its leadership edge in varied academic disciplines."

"It is essential that we have additional resources to attract and maintain an outstanding faculty, provide support staff, and fund research on problems that affect our way of life."

GC man held on MEG charge

Jimmy Dale Castle, 32, of 1714 Cleveland Blvd., was arrested at a relative's home in the 2400 block of Dewey Avenue at noon Tuesday on a warrant alleging unlawful delivery of a controlled substance.

The warrant stems from an undercover investigation by agents of the Metropolitan Enforcement Group of Southwestern Illinois (MEGSI) early last year. He was indicted April 20, 1977.

His bond was set at $15,000 and he was being held today in lieu of bond in the Madison County Jail at Edwardsville.

Annual fee paid by board

The Pontoon Village Board Tuesday night authorized the expenditure of $122 to the Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan and Regional Planning Commission.

The annual fee will reimburse the financial support of the planning commission which assists municipalities with grant applications and other planning.

The board also granted permission to the Veterans of Foreign Wars to hold their annual poppy sale in the village on Friday and Saturday, May 19 and 20.

Seek seniors for orchestra

Recognizing there are many senior residents with musical talent in the Granite City Township area, the formation of a Senior Citizens Orchestra is being proposed.

Township Supervisor Nelson Hagnauer said today.

Any resident in the township community, 55 years and over, who can perform on a musical instrument is being urged to contact Hagnauer at the township office, 2060 Delmar Ave., to register and get additional details.

Information also may be obtained by calling the office at 877-6584.

Arrest four

Four young men, ages 18 to 21, arrested at 9:30 p.m. Tuesday in the 2800 block of Madison Avenue, have been released pending laboratory tests on marijuana police alleged finding in their auto.

The auto first allegedly went through the red light at 27th Street and Madison Avenue and was stopped. Officers noted a strong odor of cannabis in the car and alleged finding a plastic bag of marijuana on the left front floorboard.

A "bang," a type of smoking pipe, was found on the rear floorboard and another bag of marijuana was allegedly found in the left trousers pocket of a 19-year-old, it was reported.

A large club also was found between the front seats, police said. The driver was charged with violating a red light and all were released until laboratory reports confirm the substance seized is marijuana.

Bailey quits committee post

Noting that he has not been given the duties that go with the job, Fifth Ward Alderman Lloyd H. Bailey informed Tuesday night that he is resigning his chairmanship of the council's City Buildings Committee.

In a prepared statement which was presented to the alderman as a communication by City Clerk Robert Stevens, Bailey said he was resigning the post to "those who seem to take on the duties that go with the title."

After Bailey's resignation was read, Mayor Paul Schuler remarked, "I'm sorry to hear that."

Alderman Ronald Coleman of the Seventh Ward made a motion to accept the statement and place the notice on file. The motion was passed.

In his notice, Bailey said:

"I, Lloyd H. Bailey, alderman of the Fifth Ward, am hereby resigning as chairman of the City Buildings as of this date. 'Chairman of City Buildings' seems to be just a title, not an office. I was appointed chairman, but have not been consulted as to any of the problems or solutions since I have been titled."

"For example, the Granite City Township Building, when furnishing the building I was not consulted; someone else took on the responsibility. 'The old Granite City fire station was put up for bids and I was not consulted; I am sorry to hear that.'"

"It was told the mayor had picked a special committee for this situation; therefore, I once again saw no bids. Also, the new fire station furnishing was not even brought to my attention until handled by someone else. 'I feel I am unjustly treated as far as not given the duties that go with the title Chairman of Buildings. I feel it only fair to myself to resign my title to those who seem to take on the duties that go with the title. Thank you.'"

Attempts to steal records

Granite City police are attempting to identify a man who put 53 record albums in two paper bags at K-Mart at 7:15 p.m. Tuesday and then pushed them out the front door in a shopping cart.

A security manager watched the man load both bags full of record albums and then wait near the front door until the

High water closes Lewis-Clark park

The Lewis & Clark park and historical site has been closed because of the high river stage which has cut off some of the access roads, it was announced today.

Extent of the closing is not known but visitors who are planning to visit the park may call the office of Cahokia Mounds Park at 344-2080 to obtain information as to road conditions.

security guard's attention was distracted. He then pushed the cart and records out the front door.

The man was stopped outside, but broke away and ran across the parking lot and across Nameoki Road, leaving the cart and records behind.

He returned to the parking lot a short time later and was seen hiding behind a car near Tri-Mor Bowl. When authorities approached, he again ran across Nameoki Road and escaped.

Store officials valued the records at $350.

VENICE VANDALISM

Seek genetic service expansion to reassure parents, save babies

The National Foundation-March of Dimes this week urged Congress and the American people to act on a nationwide expansion of genetic service facilities.

To achieve this goal, Charles L. Massey, president of the National Foundation, called for mobilization of concerned citizens to support the reenactment of the National Genetic Diseases Act.

"The need for and the value of genetic services is a matter of record," Massey said. "The March of Dimes has been, and continues to be, the major source of funds for the practice of genetic medicine and we are proud of that fact."

As a part of its total research program for prevention of birth defects, the March of Dimes currently supports 150 grants in genetic research totaling $4 million. As a part of its medical service programs, support of $2.5 million is given to 82 genetic service grants.

Massey said, however, that the need for genetic services is much greater than "a voluntary health agency, with limited resources, can or should continue to meet alone."

"Congress is now considering reenactment of the National Genetic Diseases Act," Massey noted. "We urge its approval as one way to make available the funds required to serve our children. The volunteers of the March of Dimes will work to arouse public concern and action to achieve that goal."

The National Genetic Diseases Act, cosponsored by Senator Jacob Javits (R-N.Y.) and Harrison Williams (D-N.J.), became law on April 22, 1976, to provide counseling, education, research and million for 80 genetic service programs.

Despite a "seed money" policy which limits Foundation funding to a demonstration period of five years, 23 genetic service grants are being extended beyond the recommended limit, to ensure the availability of these programs while alternative sources of support are being considered.

New applications for support of additional genetic services at institutions where they are underdeveloped will be accepted, he said.

"It is in this spirit of protecting the lives of our children that the National Foundation-March of Dimes reaffirms its support of research, diagnosis, including amniocentesis, for those who would benefit from it and who request it."

"Fully 97 percent of the high-risk women using amniocentesis find that the unborn baby does not have the suspected defect. Therefore, amniocentesis saves thousands of babies each year. I am referring to those who might never be born unless their parents can be reassured by an accurate scientific prenatal diagnosis."

"Our medical and moral commitment to genetic services remains intact," he continued. "In fact, we hope that, with the help of others, our financial support can be multiplied many times over."

Their initial report of 469 votes was in error. No Republican has yet been certified to oppose Whitsell.

Roderick Baader in District 23 won the Democratic nomination with 1,033 votes, the canvass showed, rather than the 920 votes the Republican has been certified in that district.

Unchanged by the canvass were District 19 where William Webb received 1,132 votes to win the Democratic nomination and District 16 where George Slattery was selected by the GOP with 131 votes.

Morris Miles defeated incumbent Walter Sparks for the District 16 Democratic nomination 797 to 727, the same as tallied the night of the election. No GOP opponent has been certified.

In District 15, which is primarily a Wood River Township precinct, but does include Chouteau Precinct Three, George Schmittling topped incumbent Wayne Bridgewater 413 to 300 for the Democratic nomination. Again, a GOP is yet to be selected.

The vacant GOP slots will be filled after the Madison County Clerk has contacted the top written candidates and certified that they are residents of that precinct, meet the requirements of the office and do wish to run.

Rites for former local resident
Funeral services were held at 1:30 p.m. Monday, March 27, at a funeral home in Shipman, Ill., for Willie Webb, 70, formerly of Granite City.

Mr. Webb died Friday, March 24, at his home in Shipman after an illness of eight months.

He was employed as a teamster for the Rantl Soda Co. prior to his moving to Shipman 15 years ago.

Survivors include his wife, Mary; one daughter, Mrs. Mary "Toots" Burnett of Shipman; two sisters, Mrs. Virginia Bukas and Mrs. Margaret Lowe, both of Granite City; and a brother, Eugene Webb of St. Louis; two grandsons and two great-grandchildren.

Burial was in Sunset Hill Cemetery, Edwardsville Township.

County board results unchanged by canvass

The official canvass of votes from the March 21 primary election, which was completed Tuesday, showed no changes in the nomination of candidates to represent their parties for seats on the Madison County Board.

There were some minor vote changes noted, but they did not affect the outcomes in any of the races from the unofficial results announced election night.

One change was in Granite City District 21 where incumbent Daniel Partney was the Democratic nominee with 948 votes, rather than the 908 tallied election night. His opponent John "Jeff" When collected 639 votes and Richard Matheni was declared the Republican nominee for that seat with 79 GOP votes. The totals for Worthen and Matheni were not changed by the canvass.

In District 26, incumbent Louis Whitsell was the Democratic nominee with 611 votes, Arthur Theis was second with 500 votes and Mrs. Helen Hawkins received 453, according to the canvass. Mrs. Hawkins' unofficial vote was erroneously listed as 398 and was changed by the canvass. In District 15, which is primarily a Wood River Township precinct, but does include Chouteau Precinct Three, George Schmittling topped incumbent Wayne Bridgewater 413 to 300 for the Democratic nomination. Again, a GOP is yet to be selected.

The vacant GOP slots will be filled after the Madison County Clerk has contacted the top written candidates and certified that they are residents of that precinct, meet the requirements of the office and do wish to run.

Trailriders start new season April 9

The Trailriders Saddle Club of the Quad-Cities will start its 1978 activity schedule with a "Fun Show" on Sunday, April 9, at 1 p.m. at the club arena, located on Chouteau Slough Road, near Rock Road and the Chain of Rocks Canal levee.

At the club's pre-season election meeting, Bill Leroy was named president of the Trailriders for 1978.

Other officers elected were Dave Burcham, vice president, Kathy Bargiel, secretary and Kathy (Strackeljohn) Smith, treasurer.

Members of the board of directors are Randy Allen, Lattie Bryarby, Lyle Hartzel, Gene Jones, Russ Neuner and Bill Schneidewind.

Included in the 1978 season agenda are point, fun and money shows, trail rides, camping and similar events.

Leroy said all Sunday shows will start at 1 p.m. and Saturday night shows at 6:30.

In the point shows, Trailriders accumulate points for winning various events, with their scores tabulated at the season's end. High point trophies are then awarded to the top scorers.

Point shows are scheduled on Sunday, April 23, Sunday, May 21, Saturday, June 17, Saturday, July 1, Saturday, July 15, Saturday, Aug. 26 and Sunday, Sept. 10.

Fun shows, when the riders compete for ribbons, are set on Sunday, April 9, Sunday, May 7, Sunday, June 4, Saturday, Aug. 12, Sunday, Sept. 24 and Sunday, Oct. 8, at which trophies will be presented.

The club members also are planning a money show on Saturday, July 29, and a trail ride and campout on Saturday and Sunday, May 13 and May 14, at Greenfielders in Missouri, Leroy announced.

The public is invited to view all shows at the Trailriders' arena, the new club president said.

Rape suspect free on bond

Jerry L. McCabe, 24, of 3830 Central Lane, was released on $1,000 bond this week by Circuit Judge Joseph J. Barr on charges of rape and aggravated battery.

International documents against McCabe set his bond at $100,000, but Judge Barr reduced the bonds to $50,000 and then granted recognition for $40,000 of the bonds, which does not require the posting of cash. For the remaining $10,000 of the bond, McCabe posted $1,000, which is 10 percent, and he was released.

He is charged with grabbing a 20-year-old girl in the front parking lot of Granite City High School South Feb. 27, dragging her to an auto and forcing her inside while displaying a steel bar. It is alleged he then raped her, handed her clothing to her and ordered her out of the car.

McCabe previously was freed on a $5,000 bond in connection with an incident March 9 in Pontoon Beach for allegedly approaching a woman with a tire tool in his hand in the 3800 block of Gaslight Walk. He fled when the woman screamed. A charge of armed violence is pending in that case.

Charged in burglary

Robert A. Allen, 18, of 67 Parktowne West Mobile Home Park was arrested in Granite City at 4:45 p.m. Monday on a warrant alleging burglary in Pontoon Beach.

Pontoon Beach police were notified and Allen's bond was set at $25,000. He was taken to the Madison County Jail at Edwardsville at 2:15 a.m. Tuesday.

The alleged burglary took place March 16 at the home of Edgar Patrick, 3819 Pontoon Road.

Sell bonds

Hartman said.

He noted it was first estimated that the assessed valuation would rise from $33 million to $75 million in about 10 years, but current estimates are that the $75 million mark may be reached in about five or six years.

"The first year's total is going to be rough, but it should be smooth sailing after that," Hartman predicted.

The homeowners will owe about $762,110 interest Dec. 1, 1979, and the interest will decrease to $342,512 on the same date of 1980.

Payment of principal as well as interest will begin in the third year.

The amount due then will level at $582,625 in 1981 and remain at about that level during the remainder of the years to 1993, when the interest and principal will have decreased gradually to $567,875. The interest rate is set at 7.75 percent in 1981 through 1984 and will be 7.7 percent in 1985, 6.90 in 1986, 6.25 in 1987, 6.3 in 1988, 6.4 in 1989, and will then be set at 6.5 through 1993 when all bonds have been paid.

Net interest on the $5 million in bonds will be $1,515,000 after a premium is deducted. The consortium purchasing the bonds lists the First National Bank of Chicago, Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust, and Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Smith, Inc., as joint managers.

Contributors are Goldman Sachs; BancNorthwest; LaSalle National Bank of Chicago; Hutchinson, Shockey & Erley; Cramer Newman; Columbian Securities; Loebe & Company, and Vankampen Saeuam & Co.

Associated in the purchase are John Nuyens & Co., White, Weld & Co., Inc.; UMIC; Dain Kalman & Quail; Wilson, White, Bell, Lasker, Roehlin & Co., and Boniwell & Company.

In all, 17 companies are sharing in the purchase of the $5 million in bonds, with the First National Bank of Chicago heading the project.

The bond sale ordinance was approved Wednesday by the Madison County Board on a 24 to 1 vote, with only Jim Greene of Wood River voting against it.

Portell

the old trucks were traded for parts needed to make repairs on street department trucks to keep them running.

"They (from the garage) have helped us make some repairs and we in turn have given them some parts from old inoperable trucks as a return of the favor," Portell said.

He said there were no billings nor payments involved.

Mayor Paul Schuler told Portell that "I don't think you can do that. There are certain procedures that have to be followed."

Schuler suggested that the city attorney bring in a set of rules that must be followed in such transactions and suggested that Portell follow those procedures.

Portell later told the Press-Record that street department trucks have been kept operable on numerous occasions through "swapping" parts — old ones from city trucks for needed parts obtained from Miller's garage.

"For example, when we acquired the grouting equipment for sewer work and needed two pickup trucks, we were able to get two inoperable pickups back into condition through help from the garage, and there was no charge for it. We are still using those trucks," Portell said.

He noted that it would be virtually impossible to comply with a suggestion by Mayor Schuler that the street department get back any parts it may have traded with the garage, but that hereafter the old procedure will be abandoned.

"I figure we are just about even on any trades we have made," Portell commented.

Following the discussion Coleman moved that the city advertise for bids for parts needed to repair the transmission on the truck first mentioned by Portell. The motion carried.

Other participating merchants include Cut and Curl, Gasen's Drugs, Granite City Opticians, Holiday One-Hour Cleaners, Rubenstein's Family Shoe Store, The Fabric Store and Truttler's.

Eilerman on state health service board

Ted Eilerman, executive vice-president of St. Elizabeth Hospital in Granite City, has been appointed as a member of the Statewide Health Coordinating Council by Illinois Governor James R. Thompson. Gov. Thompson said that Eilerman's appointment was due to his "dedication and commitment to the ideals of public service."

Eilerman is first vice-president of the Greater St. Louis Health Systems Agency. The native Granite Cityan is the second-ranking administrator of the local hospital, which is currently carrying out a major expansion program.

Shooting victim is improving

Michael Baggett, 21, of 2650 State St. was in satisfactory condition today at Firmin Desloge Hospital, St. Louis, where he is recuperating from a bullet wound to his head sustained Saturday.

Authorities said he underwent surgery to remove the bullet from his head and has been taken from the hospital's intensive care unit to a regular hospital room.

Granite City police say they have identified a suspect in the shooting and have turned all information over to Madison County State's Attorney Nicholas G. Byron personally, but have received no response. Byron must decide whether to approve a felony charge, whether to present the case to a county grand jury and seek an indictment.

City defers bill to control parking of tractor-trailers

An ordinance that would prohibit parking of truck tractor-trailer units in any part of Granite City except those zoned M-1 and M-2 (light and heavy industrial) was introduced at the regular City Council meeting Tuesday night.

Action on the bill was deferred on a motion by Alderman Charles Douglas of the First Ward who said he believes the ordinance should be made aware of those parts of the city in which such vehicles could be parked.

John Papa, acting for City Attorney Lance Callis, told the aldermen the "blanket" ordinance deals specifically with "truck tractor-trailers" which includes only large industrial type truck units and would not apply to smaller units such as camping units, camper homes and smaller type trucks.

Such an ordinance was requested by Alderman Roy Poulos of the Third Ward who has sponsored several bills prohibiting the parking of trucks of more than 18 feet in length on certain city streets.

In response to a question by Poulos, Papa said the new ordinance would not affect those ordinances previously passed.

After Poulos, as chairman of the Ordinance Committee, moved to suspend the rules for final passage of the ordinance, Douglas asked which areas of the city still would be open to parking for the larger trucks. Papa said he could not give a list of the specific streets and suggested the information could be provided by the Zoning Committee.

Douglas moved to defer further action on the bill until the council's next meeting Tuesday, April 4.

The council also approved on final passage an ordinance embodying all terms of a new three-year working agreement between the city and the Police Department union members.

Also enacted Tuesday night was an ordinance amending the city's ordinance governing flood hazard areas. The bill provides that in construction of any subdivision homes or installation of mobile homes, the lowest floor of the residence must be located at least one foot above the lowest flood elevation for the area.

That bill also requires that proper drainage facilities be provided in future building and that pilings installed for new buildings must be no more than ten feet apart.

The aldermen concurred in a recommendation by Assistant City Attorney Irvin Slate Jr. that the city pay $682 as the balance of medical bills incurred by Matthew Worthen, 11, of 2811 Lincoln Ave., who was injured in a fall from his bicycle on Sept. 7, 1977.

Slate told the council the boy fell when his bicycle struck a drainage pipe that had been extended across the street in the 2800 block of East 24th Street. The attorney said medical expenses totaled $1,489, but that part of it had been paid by insurance, leaving the $682 balance.

Also approved was a bill for $17,133 in insurance premiums to the Whiteman Agency of St. Louis for insurance on fire department and police department vehicles.

sanitary line, in addition to serving stores in the shopping center, also serves the Briarcliff residential area.

A sewer replacement program conducted by the sewer division of the city department was shut down several months ago when the Community Development program informed the city that approximately $270,000 budgeted for sewer repairs by Granite City no longer could be used for that purpose.

Problems in the sewer line extending from the ADM plant to the lift station on Lockhaven Drive was brought to the council's attention by Emmett Harris, 3082 Mockingbird Lane, who told the aldermen that electrical service to the pumping station has been disrupted, that power lines leading to the station are lying in his backyard and that the odor from sewage backups plagues the neighborhood in the vicinity of the lift station.

"There is sewage all over the neighborhood," Harris said.

Pertell said that cold weather over the past several months has contributed to problems in completing the lift station which was built by ADM to replace another lift station that also gave the city problems and failed to handle the sewage flow.

City Engineer Monroe Brewer said that he is to meet this week with representatives of ADM to discuss the sewage problem. He noted that the engineering department has not yet approved and accepted the new station built by ADM.

Failure of the sewage line and lift station has been attributed in the past to the type of sewage flowing from ADM processing methods. Engineers say the sewage is an oily substance that tends to clog the sewer lines and to back up the pumps at the lift station.

The sewer line originally was built by ADM to serve its soybean processing plant and discharge sewage from the plant into Granite City sewers near the Steelcrest subdivision. In order to obtain easements for the line, ADM allowed several steelcrest residents to tap onto the sewer line.

Within a year after the line was installed, problems with the lift station and the line resulted in demands by the city that ADM take steps to correct the problems. Early in 1976 ADM replaced the sewer line, and last year replaced the lift station.

Alderman Sam Whitmer of the Second Ward told the council Tuesday night that "It's about time we tell them (ADM) what they are going to do and then see that they do it."

Mayor Paul Schuler said that he would entertain a motion to notify ADM that unless the problem is resolved within 10 days, the ADM sewer line connection with city sewers would be cut off.

He asked Whitmer if he would make the motion.

"Let's be realistic," Whitmer replied. If they haven't been able to do anything in three or four years, they can't do it in 10 days. It's still a local industry and there are still jobs there.

Brewer then informed the aldermen that he has a meeting arranged with an ADM attorney to discuss the matter and Schuler suggested that the city await a report on the outcome of that meeting.

1,042 riders on CHORBUS

A total of 1,042 persons was transported on the Granite City Township CHORBUS (Community Handicapped and Older Riders) vehicle during the month of February.

The figure sets a new record for the township's transportation program, Supervisor Nelson Hagmann said this week.

The previous top passenger figure was set in January 1978 when more than 850 people utilized the CHORBUS.

Due to the CHORBUS program's increasing popularity, a second vehicle may be acquired in the near future, it was learned.

Stallings

on the school's future is reached.

Ed Hessel, who lives across Route 162 from the school, said he watched the original school built in 1906 and then watched the present school being constructed. He expressed concern over what will be done with the building, if the school is closed.

Several persons present emphasized that Granite City's growth primarily is to the east and the construction of new sanitary sewers in Naneski, Chouteau and Venice Townships is expected to speed that growth.

"You recognized that when you constructed this school (Grigsby) and when you constructed the new Granite City High School North. The population is moving this way. In the future, you are going to have to come to us with a bond issue to construct a new school in this area and land will cost a great deal more then," one man commented.

Asked if the school district is currently looking at land east of Granite City for possible future construction, Mofsky stated, "I can't comment on that. If you are asking if we are actively looking for land there now, the answer is no."

Kraus explained that the proposal for closing the school would save the school district about $250,000 a year. Quiet Valley and Jones Park children would be bused to Mitchell School, increasing the population there by 120 students, to an enrollment of 515 students at Mitchell School.

Most other Stallings pupils, about 71, would be sent to Lake School and 39 of the pupils currently at Lake School would be transferred to Parkview School, it was explained.

School officials contended the average class size in the affected schools after the transfer would be about 24 students, while most now have about 28 or 29 students per class.

Kraus said the committee studied the possibility of closing Stallings was the most practical to close.

"We do not think it is ideal with railroad tracks behind it and a highway in front," he said.

Parents reacted loudly to the statement, saying Lake School is near "the world's worst railroad crossing" and that a highway adjoins the school's playground. Also, Maryville Road, which was designated as a "dragstrip," recently has been completed and empties onto Route 162 near the school.

They also contended busing students to Mitchell School is more dangerous than keeping them at Stallings, due to high speed traffic on Route 161 and lack of a left turn signal for buses turning from Route 111 onto East Chalmers Road in a very busy intersection.

John Sands, a parent, said the fence at Stallings School keeps the students away from the tracks or the highway and students never get outside the fence, except to chase a ball or in other rare instances. He also said very few trains use the tracks behind the school.

Several parents expressed concern their children may be transferred several times to different schools before the district's student population stabilizes from the Stallings closing.

Some said they had experienced having their children "bounced" from school to school, particularly children from portions of Pontoon Beach.

Another woman said she has five children who attended Stallings School and stated, "There is a close bond between my children, the principal and every teacher. It is more of a home unit." She said her children who have graduated from Stallings always return to visit their teachers when possible.

Another said her son was a problem student until Stallings teachers diagnosed his problem and worked with him to solve it. He has been happy and well adjusted at Stallings, she said.

David Partney, a candidate for the Granite City School Board, said the board is considering closing Stallings School

"for financial purposes and no one likes to see it."

He stated the district operates on about a $21 million budget each year and Stallings costs about $234,000 a year to keep open. Closing it would not end all of the maintenance costs.

"You will save less than one percent of your budget by closing Stallings School. Everyone is going to have to work together and come up with a solution, but this is not it," Partney contended.

Kraus said budget cuts are essential if the school district is to maintain the present quality of education.

"At the beginning of this school year, we were about $1,223,000 in debt. By the end of this school year, we project a debt of about $1,583,000. The district is seeking means of slowing down this debt. You can come to a place where you can not borrow your way out of debt."

"With sewers, Granite City will grow, but we are getting back to the fact that now we have 'X' amount of dollars and the board has done an excellent job of keeping these programs going on with the amount of money available."

"The state has not met its obligations to the schools, statewide. This district, in three years, has been shorted more than $2 million by the state. They say they do not have the funds, so they prorrate the claims. This is our major problem, along with decreasing enrollment," Kraus explained.

B. J. Davis, superintendent of schools, noted cuts have been made in every part of the district and Stallings parents are not being asked to take the entire brunt of the district's financial difficulties.

He noted staff has been cut in nearly every school and some programs have been limited, all in an effort to bring the budget more in line with expenditures. There also has been a freeze on capital outlay in the current school year.

Kraus said all but 11 Stallings students now ride busses to school, so busing costs will not increase significantly if the proposal to transfer the students is adopted. No additional buses will be required, he stated.

Parents said additional gasoline will be necessary to take the students to Mitchell and Lake schools and the increased danger on the highways does not justify the change.

Mofsky answered, "The parents will be asked to give us of the point you just made." Noting the lack of full state funding is the major cause of the financial problems, he urged everyone to write to their senators and representatives for full funding of schools. "We already have," he added.

He also said the board will consider objections that the closing of Stallings would disrupt scout programs and extracurricular programs in which the students participate. Charles Layman, emphatically offered the board a counter-proposal to consider. "We propose you keep Stallings open and you cut your budget somewhere else." His comment evoked loud applause from the audience.

Mofsky summarized the meeting and the board's position, stating, "We are happy everyone got together. This is a difficult decision school boards are facing throughout the nation and Illinois. We are not intentionally closing any of our facilities."

"This is a proposal by a committee. There has been no decision. You have had your say. All of you stated your thoughts and ideas which will be taken into consideration as we reach our decision."

"Petitions against the school's closing were presented to the board at its last meeting. Our decision will be reached at the board's next meeting April 11 and the meeting, as are at school board meetings, will be open to the public," he concluded.

The board will meet at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, April 11, at the board office, 20th and Adams streets.

Venice seeks EPA aid to solve pollution problem

The Illinois Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) will be asked to investigate noise and dust pollution on Main Street in Venice, allegedly caused by trucks and operations of the Illinois Central Gulf Railroad piggyback yard.

Two residents voiced complaints at the Venice City Council meeting Tuesday night. The residents charged health problems are caused by the dust, destruction of private property by trucks and dangerous driving hazards.

First Ward Alderman Thomas Voegelé said, "We need to call in the EPA on this. This problem has existed too long and the railroad seems to be doing little to correct the situation. I'll call the EPA in the morning."

Venice Mayor William Ebersoldt said, "I have talked to those people (railroad authorities) 40 times about this problem and I will call them again in the morning. I'll also call the EPA."

There are about six residents with homes near the yards in the 600 and 700 block of Main Street.

Complaints about the conditions have existed since September 1975.

Another resident complained that her fire insurance has been cancelled on property in the 1100 block of Market Street because condemned houses that have not been torn down.

Mayor Ebersoldt instructed City Attorney Harry Hartman to check the legal aspects of the situation and instructed the city clerk to notify the building inspectors to be at the next council meeting with a report on the situation.

"Let's get these houses on the list as soon as possible. We have money to do this type of work and I wish the aldermen would make an effort to assist the building inspectors and attorneys with making up another list of these structures that need to be torn down," Ebersoldt said.

"There is a community development meeting here in the city hall at 7 p.m. Thursday (today) and I think the aldermen and building inspectors should be in attendance if at all possible," Ebersoldt said.

Alderman Tyrone Echols,

Fourth Ward, asked that parking ordinances on the east side of Weaver Street be studied for possible changes.

"We have at least six businessmen who are having problems with their customers not being able to park on the east side of Weaver Street and I feel we should look into it and do what we need to do to help our business people there. While I am on the subject, I think there are far too many speeders and people running stop signs on Weaver Street," Echols said.

A discussion was held on the alleged dangers of cars parking on Illinois Route Three.

At the suggestion of Alderman Hank A. Sveia, Second Ward, a citywide cleanup drive is scheduled to begin Monday, May 1.

"I think we all need to get together and clean up our town a little. There are a lot of papers thrown around and trash that we need to pick up. If everyone gets behind a cleanup drive we will improve the looks of our city," Sveia said.

Mayor Ebersoldt said, "Sgt. Charles Mize is going on a disability pension and I hope the aldermen and city officials will stop by city hall Monday afternoon as the police are holding a party for him. He has rendered the people of Venice real service as a police officer."

"I would like the city attorney to draw up something to present him on behalf of the people of Venice."

Sgt. Mize has been on the police force since June 1, 1965.

Louis, was gutted.

The fire which enveloped the youth as he ran from the building was extinguished by Tim Stovall, 2140 Robert Ave., Granite City, who only a few minutes earlier had suggested to Gaudreault that he change his clothing because of the gasoline that had spilled on his overalls.

Stovall said he had walked away from Gaudreault and a minute later heard a scream. He said he turned around to see Gaudreault fleeing from the building in flames, and that he ran after him.

Just outside the building Stovall tackled the fleeing youth and began beating out the flames. An unidentified man who was on the street nearby ran to his aid and helped smother the flames in Gaudreault's clothing.

Gaudreault worked part time at the auto parts firm.

Kindergarten registration

In announcing registration dates for next year's kindergarten classes District Nine Superintendent of Schools B. J. Davis today urged the cooperation of all parents of children who will start kindergarten in September.

Registration of all such children this spring will entitle the school district to anticipate more accurately both the space and personnel needed, Davis said.

Any child who will be five years of age on or before Dec. 31, 1978, is eligible to enroll in kindergarten.

Kindergarten classes are half-day sessions and are held at each local elementary school. A birth certificate should be presented at the time of registration and must be presented before actual attendance can begin in the fall, Sept. Davis related.

Illinois law states that no child may enter school until the first time without the following immunizations: whooping cough, diphtheria, tetanus, poliomyelitis, rubella (measles) and rubella (3-day measles). Exceptions are made only for religious or medical reasons.

Physical and dental examinations are also required before attendance in kindergarten may begin.

These forms are distributed to parents at the time of registration so that appointments for the exams can be arranged during the summer.

School nurses will be available at the time of registration to explain health regulations to parents.

Registration days at the various elementary schools are as follows:

Monday, April 24: Lake, Logan, Maryville and Niedringhaus.

Tuesday, April 25: Frohardt, Johnson, McKinley and Washington.

Wednesday, April 26: Emerson, Marshall, Mitchell and Wilson.

Thursday, April 27: Nameoki, Parkview, Stallings and Webster.

Registration will be from 9 a.m. to 12 noon and from 1 to 2:30 p.m. on the designated day. The child being registered should accompany the parent.

Any questions concerning the registration can be answered by the Board of Education office (876-6600).

Pre-school center registration will be conducted during the last week of kindergarten registration. The only difference in requirements is the child will be four years of age on or before Dec. 31, 1978.

Students presently enrolled in pre-school are not required to register; they will be tested at their regular schools.

Pre-school students who are absent, will be tested by the resident reading teachers at the pre-school center on April 28.

The six elementary buildings qualifying for the pre-school program are Emerson, Logan, Marshall, McKinley, Washington and Webster.

The following schools will host registration tests this year with Board of Education members present:

April 24: Logan, am.; Lake, p.m.

April 26: Emerson, a.m.; Marshall, p.m.

The purpose of the registration tests is to give board members the opportunity to discuss mutual concerns of the school district with parents.

Testimony begins in shooting case

Testimony began today in the jury trial of Charles Spink, 19, of 2037 Illinois Ave., who is charged with attempted murder in the shooting of Paul Saboff, 22, of Edwardsville, at 1302 Twenty-third St., Dec. 1, 1977.

Saboff was shot in the face with a sawed-off shotgun through a window and was blinded. He also suffered puncture wounds to his face, but is recuperating and is expected to testify during the trial.

Police alleged Spink has given them statements saying he was angry that four people in the house had called the police about him earlier in the evening. Officers ordered Spink to leave at that time and he complied.

Spink allegedly has said he did not mean to shoot Saboff, but "meant to scare them all." Saboff was in the living room at the home with the occupant, Cheryl Whitford, 22, and heard a noise near a window. He went to the stereo at the window and turned down the volume and a shotgun blast ripped through the window, witnesses said.

Circuit Judge Joseph J. Barr yesterday turned down motions to suppress the confession and other evidence, clearing the way for the prosecution to begin presenting its case today.

My sincere thanks to the voters of District 16 and a special thanks to my workers and supporters for your help in my nomination to the County Board.

Weekends in jail

Kevin A. Freeman, 17, of 2028 Russell St., has been sentenced in Madison County Circuit Court by Circuit Judge Joseph J. Barr to serve two years of probation and 12 weekends in the Madison County Jail after pleading guilty to burglary and a felony count of theft.

It is alleged Freeman removed a riding lawnmower and a chain saw from the storage shed of Circuit Court Bailiff Charles Parkinson, 3901 Lake Drive, Pontoon Beach Dec. 22, 1977, leaving the stolen items at the side of the road.

He and another man were found in a parked car nearby and were taken into custody for questioning. A pair of bolt cutters and a pick axe allegedly were found in the rear seat of the car.

A felony theft charge against Gary W. Barnhart, 17, of 2162 Edison Ave., in connection with the incident has been dismissed.

Four registration teas

Registration and Kindergarten teas are scheduled for morning and afternoon sessions at four Granite City elementary schools in April, according to the Granite City Board of Education.

Registration will be accepted on Monday, April 24, at both Lake and Logan schools, and on Wednesday, April 26, at Emerson and Marshall schools. The board also has approved the honorable dismissal of 55 non-tenured teachers and noted the majority probably will be rehired for the 1978-79 school term.

Resignations were accepted from Wilma L. Lowry, North High School cafeteria worker and Ralph Grange, South Industrial Arts teacher, who is retiring.

Leaves of absence were granted to Albert E. Bell, custodian, and Mrs. Harriet J.

Ward, Maryville School teacher.

The board approved bids for science supplies from 11 vendors for a total of $3,126, and the printing of election ballots to Prestige Printing or Tri-City Printing, according to the number of names on the ballot in conjunction with bids submitted by both companies.

Building trades plumbing supplies costing $317 from Crane Supply Co., and sheet metal costing $1,500 from American Sheet and Strip Steel Corp.

Donald Kopp, principal of Nameoki School, and a spokesman for the Anad Shrine Temple and the St. Louis Shrine Hospital for Crippled Children, offered the use of the staff and facilities at no cost to the parents and children who have been suspected of a scoliosis affliction, it was announced at the meeting.

Gifts accepted by the board included one from Parkview PTA for $550 to purchase playground equipment and instructional materials and from South Boosters Club a basketball machine for boys basketball, uniforms for girls gymnastics and uniforms and sweatsuits for girls track.

Probation for burglary

Ronald G. Marler, 21, of 2212 Robert St., has been sentenced in Madison County Circuit Court by Circuit Judge Harold R. Clark to serve two years of probation after pleading guilty to burglary.

Marler allegedly broke into Lone Acre's Tavern, 2413 Twentieth St., Dec. 18, 1977, after breaking the drive-in window. Police responded to a burglar alarm and alleged finding Marler inside.

White dogwood trees spectacular in spring

By WAYNE B. SIEPERT Area Horticulture Adviser
One of the best loved native trees is the flowering dogwood we see growing wild in the nearby woods.

Flowering dogwoods are found most often in the woods, but they also grow well in full sun. The loose soil with plenty of rotting leaves and small twigs that occurs in the woods is the soil environment they like best.

When dogwoods in home lawns are heavily mulched with old wood chips or compost, their extra growth and heavy crop of flower buds are worth the effort.

Dogwoods make handsome specimen trees. Their round, compact form and relatively small size are ideal as front yard trees, or part of a corner planting. But don't overlook it as a thing of beauty planted outside a kitchen or living room window.

If you have backyard trees, situate one or two dogwoods near those larger trees to manufacture a plant-sized effect.

If you add a rebud to your thicket, you will have three sizes of trees, each doing its part to improve your property and provide horticultural beauty.

White dogwoods are spectacular in the spring. But some of the dark pink (red) dogwoods are equally reliable. Some of the named varieties like cloud-nine and cherokee chief are smaller than the regular dogwoods.

Most named varieties will bloom at a younger age than unnamed varieties, and develop just as attractive fall colors and red berries as the unnamed varieties.

Just remember that the secret to growing dogwoods is to avoid planting them too deep, keep them heavily mulched with wood chips or compost, and provide occasional watering in scorching hot weather.

Former GC man recalls 'lifetime' at River Kwai

Wayne Johnson, formerly of Granite City and currently residing in Canoga Park, Calif., is featured in the spring 1978 edition of Pride, the employees' magazine of Rockwell International.

Johnson is in protective services at Rockwell's Rocketdyne Division in Canoga Park, Calif.

He was recognized for his experiences during World War II when, as a prisoner of war, he helped build the Thai-Burma Railway. A section of the rail line and the subject of the 1957 Academy Award-winning movie, is "The Bridge on the River Kwai."

Pride, which is mailed to 115,000 Rockwell employees in the U.S. and abroad, focuses on the employees, telling the firm's story through the people associated with the company.

As Johnson puts it, he "lived more than a lifetime" in three and a half years.

He was a sailor aboard the cruiser U.S.S. Houston in 1942 when Japanese warships sunk it in the battle of the Java Sea.

After abandoning ship and struggling in the water for six hours, he and a handful of crewmates reached a small island, only to become Japanese prisoners.

"We were transferred from one prison camp to another," Johnson relates.

On reaching Rangoon, Burma, he says, "I began the Bakke case to be topic

A college degree often can mean the difference between life's success or failure. But is there a difference between the poor and the affluent when similar credentials are considered for college admission?

This will be one of many topics discussed March 31 through April 8 during St. Louis University Law Week.

In conjunction with the May 1 National Law Day celebration, St. Louis University will host area scholars and attorneys in a program of lectures, panel discussions and debates.

The admission policies and procedures of American professional schools were questioned even before the Allan Bakke reversal.

The Supreme Court in October 1977, Dennis Tugler, St. Louis University professor of law, and David Lang, university director of the Mid-America Equal Employment Rights Project.

Both will discuss possible ramifications of the upcoming Bakke decision, and take an in-depth look at affirmative action programs at 7 p.m. April 5 in the Pius XII Memorial Library, 3655 W. Pine.

April's has been chosen for discussions in four controversial areas — "Housing Codes in St. Louis City and County" at 10 a.m., "Child Abuse Laws" at noon, "The Activities and Procedures of the Peace and Grievance Committees of the Bar Association of Metropolitan St. Louis" at 2 p.m., and "Affirmative Action Programs in Professional Schools" at 7 p.m.

All discussions will be in the Knights Room of the Pius XII Library. They are free and open to the public.

Jesse Goldner, university assistant professor of law in psychiatry and professor of law, will lecture on the legal aspects of child abuse, the urban hospital team approach and family-oriented treatment at the noon session.

Peter Salsich, university professor of law, will consider "What to Do When Your Lawyer Gives You a Problem" along with Attorney Anthony J. Seistr.

Plant gardens in early April

By CHRIS DOLL, Area Garden Adviser

After a cold, wet Easter weekend, gardening is still at a standstill — awaiting some nice Illinois spring weather. All fruit plants are ready to grow with the first few days of warm temperatures.

Vegetable gardening will have to wait for drier soil. But everything will start in April and here are a few items to watch for or do:

So early garden in early April. It's time to plant or sow all of the early season vegetables such as lettuce, peas, onions, etc.

However, it's better to wait for good soil conditions than to plant the seeds in. When a soil ball crumbles in the hand, it's okay to plant. If it remains a mud ball, wait a few days.

Plant fruit crops as soon as soil is ready. Early April is the ideal time for planting most fruit crops in this area.

Both bare-root and potted plants should have time to develop a good root system before hot, dry weather comes.

Buy and plant as soon as soil conditions permit.

Start asparagus plants indoors. Special varieties of cucumbers and melons (especially seedless watermelons) can now be started indoors.

It takes three to six weeks to develop a good transplant in this family. This means they'll be ready in early May.

Start in peat pots or pellets so that the root system can be planted without disturbing the soil ball. Plant when the first true leaves are forming and when the soil is warm.

The grapes to a tight wire. Grapes are generally pruned to the long cane system and then tied to a wire trellis system.

The more rigid the fence or tighter the wire, the better the cane and its fruit will be supported during the growing season.

This will then provide the support, aeration, and training aid for which it was intended.

Watch for the proper time to uncover strawberries.

UNDERCOATING — RALPH'S TEXACO 22ND & MADISON AVE.

uncovered with mulch as long as possible so as to delay bloom and prevent damage. When following this practice, check the condition of the plants under the mulch every three or four days.

When the new leaves show white or yellow coloration, it's time to uncover them. But do it on a warm day so that a frosty night won't hurt the tender plants.

Spray to stay ahead of pests. Prevention is worth more than an ounce of cure in pest control.

All of the major fruit pests, including diseases, can be controlled by following the home-owners spray schedule.

Failure to get ahead of pests can easily mean severe loss of apples from apple scab; peaches from brown rot, and wormy fruit; strawberries from rots and insects; raspberries from disease, etc.

Don't apply any insecticide sprays during bloom. Most of the fruit crops will bloom during the month, and pesticide sprays should be applied before or after bloom. You want pest control and not bee control.

Grafting and bridge-grafting can be done.

Bridge-grafting of rabbit-injured trees should be done as soon as the bark begins to slip.

Grafting for variety change or increasing numbers can wait until mid-to-the-late April if desired. It is critical that the wood be dormant when grafted.

Plan for successive harvest of vegetables when planting.

This can be done by repeated planting of a variety at weekly intervals, or by one planting of several varieties with different maturity times. Thus, the favorite variety of radish can be planted several times, and several varieties of sweet corn can be planted on the same day.

ELIMINATION OF RATS will be an objective of a Granite City cleanup campaign announced by City Inspector Emerald Dawes who displays one of the rodents killed in West Granite City. Dawes said ridding the city of trash and debris and cleaning yards and alleys will do away with cover and food which attracts the pests. This rat, Dawes said, weighed more than three pounds and was 16 inches long.

Thank You!

I wish to thank, and express my appreciation to, my friends and supporters who helped me in the March 21st Primary.

Matthew 23:13 ... "But woe unto you ... hypocrites for you shut up the kingdom of heaven against men."

Would you be surprised to know that there are hypocrites in religion? Jesus was quick to point out this fact to his followers.

A hypocrite is a pretender. Identified by appearance and not by content. Many folks will attend church because of hypocrites. However, they will attend sports events, movies, theaters, supermarkets, etc., with hypocrites. Does this tell you something?

Because someone else happens to pretend his devotion to God doesn't mean that you have to pretend. As a matter of fact, you may be the means of showing someone how to do it right.

Let your light shine to others, so they may see God in you. Shine, today.

School energy workshop set for April 20

State Superintendent of Education Joseph M. Cronin announced this week that a series of one-day energy workshops for school districts will be held by the Illinois Office of Education.

The workshops, Cronin said, will give districts practical and reliable information for dealing with their energy problems. In addition, he said, workshop consultants can help districts develop better ways to teach children about energy.

The workshops are another step by the State Board of Education to help schools solve energy problems. The board previously has supported energy legislation for schools.

One bill enacted last year allows schools to go on four-day weeks during energy shortages. Another one supported by the board allows districts to use leftover fire prevention and safety tax funds for energy conservation purposes.

In addition, Dr. Cronin noted, the state education office has worked with other state agencies, representing education's interests in the development of an energy program for the state.

The schedule of workshops is: March 30 — Princeton (Holiday Inn).

April 10 — Springfield (Illinois Office of Education, 100 N. First).

April 11 — Urbana (Holiday Inn).

April 12 — Bloomington (Indian Hills Country Club).

April 13 — Joliet (Holiday Inn South).

April 19 — Marion (Holiday Inn).

April 20 — Belleville (Augustines' Ramada Inn).

Professional consultants conducting workshops include Dennis Gaul and Michael Kynell of Energy Education Programs and the Beiling Consultants Energy Management Team made up of Robert Kegel, Roland Killian, William McHugh, Keith O'Higgins and John Thorne.

There is no registration fee for the workshops.

Persons interested in attending one of the seven sessions are to contact Jennifer Raney, energy specialist, Illinois Office of Education, 100 N. 1st St., Springfield.

Quillian in affirmative action post

Appointment of Benjamin F. Quillian Jr. of Clayton as university affirmative action officer at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville was announced this week by Dr. Kenneth A. Shaw, president of the university.

The appointment, subject to confirmation by the SIUE Board of Trustees, is effective May 1. Judy Connolly, acting coordinator of the university affirmative action office since September, will continue in that position until May 1.

Quillian, an assistant professor with the Delinquency Study and Youth Development Center at SIUE since 1973, will assume the post left vacant by the resignation of Sally J. Page on Aug. 1, 1977.

He was one of five candidates recommended to SIUE by a search committee, an 11-member group headed by Rosanda Richards, associate professor in the Department of Foundations of Education.

According to Prof. Richards, the search group received 106 applications for the position. Screening of applicants has been under way since October. Commenting on the appointment and his expectations for the affirmative action office, Pres. Shaw said, "I am pleased to have someone of Dr. Quillian's outstanding talents undertake this important responsibility. The immediate problem is to develop a workable affirmative action plan, to be followed by implementation."

"With the task completed," the president continued, "the affirmative action officer will be able to initiate a variety of developmental activities that will help ensure that we do more than adhere to the letter of the law."

"Ultimately, it is my expectation that the office can be used as a community resource, available to assist community schools and businesses in dealing with their affirmative action challenges."

Party to aid sexual abuse care center

A get-acquainted party will be sponsored by the staff of the Rape and Sexual Abuse Care Center at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville on Sunday.

The party will be held at the residence of Joan and Robert Bauer, 22 Briar Cliff Drive, Collinsville, from 1:30 to 6 p.m. There is no charge to the public, but donations for the benefit of the center will be accepted.

Pam Klein, director of the center, said the purpose of the get-together is to circulate information regarding the rape center. She and members of her staff will be available to answer questions.

Those interested in attending the party are to call the Rape and Sexual Abuse Care Center at 692-2197.

Patricia Huff air study aide

Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville has been awarded the second part of a grant for research investigating possible correlations between air pollution levels and lung development or capacity. The $4,000 grant is under the direction of Stephen K. Hall, associate professor in the department of chemistry.

Southeastern St. Louis was chosen for an indoor-outdoor air study because of its measured high levels of pollutants.

Hall will conduct research in connection with the Harvard Lung Study and supervise a Harvard technician of the lung study program in the performance of duties at an air monitoring station, and chemical analysis of air contaminants in indoor-outdoor air sampling.

Patricia J. Huff of Granite City is working with Prof. Hall on the project.

Teen loots truck
A teenager was seen entering the truck of Robert Dieselhorst, Litchfield, in a parking lot in the 2100 block of Washington Avenue, Monday.

A witness said the youth put something under his jacket and walked in the alley toward 22nd Street.

Dieselhorst discovered his 900 citizens band radio and a rather wrench set had been removed after the right wing vent window was forced open. The thief was described as about 5 feet, 5 inches tall, thin and having blond shoulder-length hair. He wore blue denim jacket and jeans.

Champions' charges fall to Belleville West 5-2

Press-Record Sports

Thurs., March 30, 1978

By DOUG IRVIN

For the Press-Record
"We try to pitch 3-1, letting Tretter pitch the last inning, but we couldn't today. We let Mahl start, then we brought in Kirksey in the fourth, and finally Tretter in the sixth," stated Conrad "Babe" Champion, Granite City South head baseball coach.

But Champion's plans didn't work out quite the way he had planned as South dropped a 5-2 decision to the Maroons here yesterday.

TOM MAHL, a senior and the first Warrior pitcher to pitch in the season, struck out four batters and allowed three hits and three runs in this three (first, second and third) innings. Two of the hits were singles and the other was a homerun by Belleville West's Scott Lannon to right field.

Tim Kirksey, another senior pitcher, replaced Mahl to pitch the fourth and fifth innings. Kirksey allowed three hits (two singles and a double) and two runs. He struck out two batters and walked two.

Jeff Tretter, the junior pitcher, came in to pitch the sixth inning. Tretter pitched to five batters, walked one, sent one down swinging and allowed one base hit up the middle.

THE WEST Maroon's pitcher, Mike Dunnington, stayed in the entire game. He faced 27 batters and allowed six hits (five singles and one double). He struck out nine and walked two. Dunnington threw one wild pitch and one pass ball. On both, the runners advanced, but none scored.

Senior Warrior Larry Heagy was the designated hitter (DH) and Ted Harry was the Maroons' DH.

Hennrich, of South, led off on the right foot with an infield single. Lannon connected first for the Maroons, also in the first inning.

THE GAME was scoreless until the bottom of the third inning. Harry of West led off by striking out and then Dan Dofs singled up the middle. Austin Kattenbraker reached first on the first error of the ballgame, charged to John Krekovich, Lannon then hit one deep into right field for his first homerun of the season, which scored three runs. Pete McClary grounded out to end the inning with Belleville leading 3-0.

IN THE TOP half of the fourth, Jim Therman reached first courtesy of a walk, followed by Krekovich, who doubled to left field. Heagy reached on an error by Lannon, West's second baseman, which in turn scored two runs. Dan Schaus singled up the middle and Bob Stegemeier and Tony Elliot struck out. Pat Hogan singled to right field to lead the bases. Bill Dalton struck out.

That plus a scoreless fifth and sixth inning set the scene for the Warrior's last time at bat.

HOGAN led off with a pop foul fly to third base. Larry Pinkston, pinch hitting for Mark DeGonia, who came in for Dalton, singled down the third base line.

Jeff Vaughn came in to run for Pinkston. Vaughn reached second on a pass ball. Hennrich filed out to center field and Therman reached by a walk.

Both runners advanced when Dunnington threw a wild pitch to Krekovich. Krekovich filed out to left field to end the game, 5-2.

"WE ARE never pleased with a loss, but it feels good when you play a game with no fundamental mistakes and only one physical error," concluded Champion.

North holds off Oilers for first victory, 3-2

By PETE HAYES

Press-Record Sports Editor
EAST ALTON — For Granite City North head baseball coach Bob Stegemeier, Tuesday's game here at Van Preter Park against Wood River worked out exactly the way he wanted it to.

Stegemeier had wanted to use pitchers Doug Rains, Tom Ragan and Terry Page for three, two and two innings respectively. He hoped his teams' bats would perform well despite having had only two days' batting practice. He also wanted to win the game.

Stegemeier got all three of his wishes as North won its first game of the season 3-2.

The game was actually a home game for North, but Van Preter Park was the only place around dry enough to play on.

The winning run was scored in the home half of the fifth inning. After shortstop Bob Batoy popped out to the Wood River shortstop leading off the inning, Bruce Wright walked, stole second base, went to third on a wild pitch and scored on a Tom Greco single. That put North ahead 3-1.

But Wood River made things interesting in the top of the seventh. After Kevin Downer was struck out by Page leading off the inning, Wood River's designated hitter, Chris Klaffer, smacked a line-drive single into left field. He went to second base on a wild pitch by Page.

Stegemeier got all three of his wishes as North won its first game of the season 3-2.

With men on at first and third with two out, Wood River left fielder Roger Leach hit a soft ground ball to Rains, who moved to third base after pitching the first three innings.

Instead of flipping the ball to second base for a force out which would have ended the game, Rains instead threw low to first base, allowing Klaffer to score from third and send Armstrong, the potential tying run to third.

But Wood River shortstop Tim Haug hit a grounder to Page which he tossed over to first baseman Rich Willard to end the threat and give North the victory.

"I was real pleased with the way our guys were hitting today," Stegemeier said. "We got some key hits out of some of the younger players, which I was kind of concerned about going into this one."

North's Batoy got things started for North in the first inning. After Page had struck out to lead off the inning, Batoy smacked a single to left.

But on Wood River, now 0-1, catcher Joe Silkwood's throw into second base, went into centerfield, allowing Batoy to score from second.

Wood River tied the score in the third inning. Klaffer slammed a double into left center field, and scored on Armstrong's double into right center.

Leach singled into right field, sending Armstrong to third base. Then Leach stole second, putting men on second and third with one out.

But Rains got Haug to pop out to shortstop Batoy and struck out Silkwood to end the threat.

"I had wanted to use those three pitchers at the exact times I used them today," said Stegemeier. "The way things worked out, I got to do it and still win the game."

"Of course, we're still got a long way to go," he added. "We made that one mental error in the seventh inning that cost us a run," he said, referring to Rains' wild throw to first that sent in Wood River's second run.

But we got some clutch pitching from each of the guys and our bats were livelier than I thought they might be, since we've only had to actual days of batting practice."

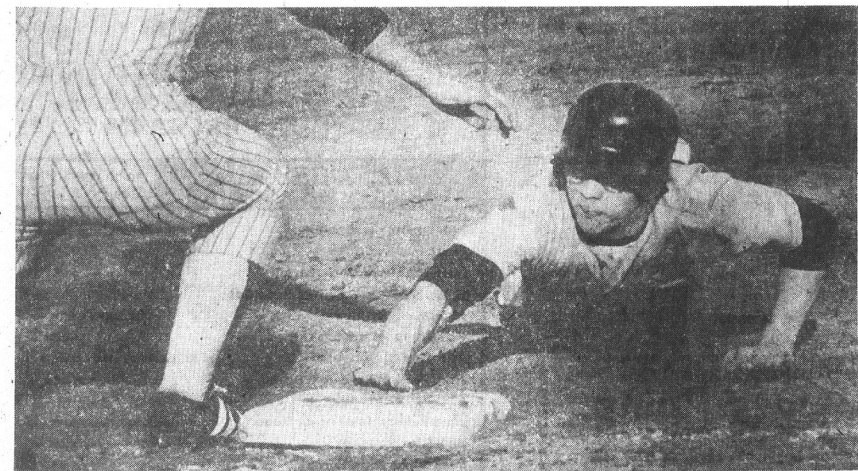

Lighting fund dinner tonight

The Granite City High School South Lighting Fund kickoff banquet will be tonight at 6 o'clock in the new Township Building, 21st and Delmar in Granite City.

Featured speakers at the banquet will be Joe Lucco, former head basketball coach at Edwardsville High School and now a member of the Illinois House of Representatives and Bob Coles, a sports announcer for KMOX-Radio and CBS television sports.

Some tickets still remain. They are priced at $10 each.

Purpose of the banquet is to begin the fund-raising drive for erection of lights at the baseball-soccer fields at Granite City High School South along Fehling Road.

DIVING BACK into first base Tuesday against Wood River is North's Russ Gregory. He stole one base and got two hits in helping the Steelers to their first victory of the season, 3-2 at Van Preter Park in East Alton. Today, North is to play at Belleville East beginning at 4 p.m.

Madison falls to East St. Louis, 10-8

By PETE HAYES

EAST ST. LOUIS — Madison head baseball coach Bill Campbell, yesterday's 10-8 loss here to East St. Louis Senior High School wasn't at all disheartening.

"Heck, we've only been outside four times before today," said Campbell. "And East St. Louis has had one game. I think we did pretty well taking all things into consideration."

The way things started out it would hardly have led anyone to believe Campbell would have said that later.

In the second inning, East St.

Louis' Derrick Dixon walked, stole second and scored on a double by Willie Rogers. Rogers then went to third base on a throwing error by Madison second baseman Joe Piechocinski and scored on another error, this one by Madison's Prince Giles.

In the third inning, William Johnson walked, went to second on an error by Madison third baseman Keith Layton on a groundball by Gary Arnold. Amos Armour's sacrifice bunt attempt was misjudged by the Trojans' defense, leading the bases.

A single by Kevin Ramsey sent Johnson and Arnold home.

Then William Coleman walked. A throwing error by Raymond Peoples, the Madison pitcher, scored Armour and Ramsey, making the score 6-0. Armour then made things worse by smacking a home run over the left field fence to make it 7-0 in the fifth inning.

Madison got two of those runs back in the sixth inning when Peoples walked, stole second and went to third on a fly ball by Piechocinski. Keith Layton hit a sacrifice fly which scored Peoples making it 7-1.

Then Mack Watt singled, went to second on an error by Flyer centerfielder Armour. He scored on Juan Garder's double, making the score 7-2 after five-and-a-half innings of play.

In the bottom of the sixth, however, East St. Louis scored what proved to be the winning runs. Don Dotier singled, and went to second when Rogers also singled.

The runners advanced to second and third on a sacrifice by Tom Woodard and scored on a William Johnson single into left field.

Johnson went to second on an error by centerfielder Peoples. He had been replaced on the Trojans' mound by Kevin Warner. He then scored on an error by first baseman Garder. Madison made its run at East St. Louis in the seventh inning. Keith Warner filed out to begin the inning. But then Michael Joiner walked as did Jimmy Gairair. Peoples, doubled, scoring both runners.

Peoples was thrown out trying to stretch his double into a triple. Piechocinski then singled. Derner was sent in as a pinch runner for him.

Two straight walks by Madison's Keith Layton, Gary Graville lead the bases.

Gardner then walked, scoring Derner. Eddie Burns (men slinged to right for Madison, scoring Layton, Graville and Gardner. But the threat was ended, as was the game when Warner struck out for the third out of the inning.

"We had a few mental errors," said Campbell. "I was real proud of the way the guys hung in there and made it close in the last two innings."

Madison will try for its first victory of the season this afternoon when they host Roxana at 4 o'clock.

North's Batoy got things started for North in the first inning. After Page had struck out to lead off the inning, Batoy smacked a single to left.

But on Wood River, now 0-1, catcher Joe Silkwood's throw into second base, went into centerfield, allowing Batoy to score from second.

Wood River tied the score in the third inning. Klaffer slammed a double into left center field, and scored on Armstrong's double into right center.

Leach singled into right field, sending Armstrong to third

South gymnasts set for debut

GRANITE CITY — Granite City is about to have yet another high school sport thrust upon her. But this one is going to be a little nicer to look at than some of the ones she's used to seeing.

The sport is girls' gymnastics and Granite City South and North High Schools will begin their seasons together on Saturday, April 6 at Edwardsville. North and South will travel together for all of their meets but two.

South's coach is Linda Hill, a native of New Mexico who migrated to Illinois with her husband, who is an assistant coach at Wood River High School.

Hill was a gymnast in college and knows the ups and downs of the sport. "We've actually had a team for three years," she said. "But this is the first time that money was available for us to have an interscholastic program."

"It was also the first time that there were enough schools in the area with teams to make it feasible for us to have one." Gymnastics has long been dominated in Illinois by the Chicago-area schools. That fact is emphasized by the fact that North and South have to travel all the way up to Moline for the district meet April 24-25.

"I think the sport is coming along," she said. "We could have started our season earlier, in January in fact. But there just aren't enough teams around here yet, so we just have four meets scheduled for each school in Granite City."

Venice loses to Beecher, 12-2

VENICE — Beecher High School came through with a 12-2 win over Venice here yesterday afternoon, pounding out 13 hits while not committing a single error.

The visitors got things started in the top of the first when they tallied six runs.

Venice came back in the bottom of the first when Derrick Johnson singled to right field, stole second base and was singled home by a Frank Pace single into right field.

Things stayed that way until the fourth inning when Beecher came through with another bunch of runs... this time five tallies in all.

The fourth was also the inning that Venice got its second run of the game.

Derrick Mathis was hit by a pitch and then stole second base. The throw from the Beecher catcher went into centerfield, allowing Mathis to go on to third. The throw from the Beecher centerfielder into third went over the third basemen's head, and Mathis came in to score.

Beecher added another run in the seventh inning.

"I think it's just a case of inexperience," said Venice coach Ken Perkins. "This was the first time we'd even been out on a diamond to face anything besides a straight batting-practice pitcher."

"We're just going to have to play together some more and learn while we're doing it."

"I think the main thing is for the guys on the team to learn how to play together and to have fun while they're doing it... that's what it's all about," he added.

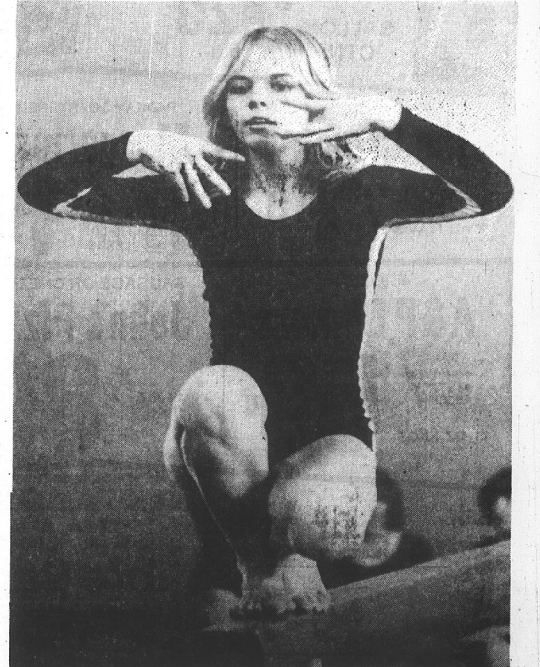

Venice may learn quite a bit this afternoon when they travel to Dupu for a 4 o'clock game.

Soccer season is postponed

The start of the Tri Cities YMCA spring soccer program has been postponed until April 6, according to program director Don Rains.

The season was to have originally started two weeks ago, but has had to be put off because of the poor condition of the playing fields after the melting of the snow and the rainfall which has accrued.

The original plan was to have started in the middle of the schedule and make it up at the end of the season. But with the most recent delay, a decision was made to re-write the schedule. It will be available to team coaches by April 4 according to Rains.

Collecting...

By PETE HAYES
Press-Record Sports Editor
GRANITE CITY

Remember when you were a kid and saved your pennies until you had enough to go down to the corner store and buy a pack of baseball cards? You'd probably unwrap them in a hurry and trade duplicates with your friends. You'd also chew that big chunk of awful tasting bubble gum and then swallow it, right?

But that was a long time ago and you were just a kid. That's who trading baseball cards is for, kids, right?

WELL, MAYBE they're a kind of heart, but there's a group of grown men in this area who collect not only baseball cards, but also many other kinds of sports memorabilia.

They're known as the "St. Louis Cards," and their membership includes people from Granite City, Roxana, St. Louis, Edwardsville, DuQuoin and other communities around southwestern Illinois.

They're holding their annual convention this weekend (March 31 through April 2) at the St. Louis Holiday Inn-North, 4545 North Lindbergh in Bridgeton, Mo. Admission is $1 and anyone is welcome to come and see the various display tables and to trade, buy or sell.

All proceeds will go to the St. Louis County Association for Special Children.

AMONG the other items besides baseball cards which are collected, are actual old baseball uniforms, worn by major league players, and equipment, such as gloves, shoes and caps. Some sell for as high as $250.

Baseball trading cards can be traced as far back as the late 19th century. At that time they were available to people willing to save enough coupons in exchange for a picture of any baseball player they wanted.

However, the method wasn't too successful and shortly after the turn of the century, cards were obtained by buying either candy or cigarettes.

But paper shortages caused by the onset of World War I cut the growing industry short.

THE "THIRD STAGE" of trading cards began in the 1920s. Candy was again a popular method of distributing the cards, but cigarettes were rejected by gum.

But the onset of another nation-wide catastrophe, the

A group of area men will soon get together and guess what? ... trade baseball cards!

Great Depression, brought an end to the enterprise, as well as most other "pleasure" industries.

IN 1933, the Goudey Gum Company began printing baseball cards which could be bought along with a thick piece of chewing gum ... a feature which is still popular today.

The series was comprised of 240 cards. However, one card, that of one Napoleon Lajoie, is unavailable. It is valued at several hundred dollars by avid collectors.

Among the cards in that 1933 series were four different ones of Babe Ruth, two of Lou Gehrig and one each of Dizzy Dean, Tris Speaker, Rogers Hornsby and other stars of that era.

JUST AS the first world war has brought an end to baseball cards in the late 1920s, so did World War II stop the publication of them in 1941.

By 1947, a few sets had begun to reappear, published by regional companies. They were either inserted into packages of their products or were redeemed for coupons.

THE BASEBALL CARD era today — the baseball card as we know it — began in 1948.

Among the cards in that 1933 series were four different ones of Babe Ruth, two of Lou Gehrig and one each of Dizzy Dean, Tris Speaker, Rogers Hornsby and other stars of that era.

cards of the early 1960's were the St. Louis Hunter Wiener cards. They are now quite rare and a popular item among collectors.

The Bowman Gum Company printed baseball cards from 1948 until 1955 when they merged with the Topps Cheewing Gum Company.

TOPPS began publication in 1961 and today are at the height of their sales with millions of cards printed each year.

Baseball card collecting, as well as collecting cards of other sports, is at an all-time high. People of all ages get involved.

Today, there are trading cards available for most major professional sports. Among them are football, hockey and of course, baseball.

THERE WILL be several hundred collectors displaying their wares this weekend at the convention in St. Louis. They will travel from several states just to get a chance to see if someone might have a card or another item they might want and might be able to work out a trade.

But there'll be a lot of people there who just want to look ... and remember.

North honors cage team at annual awards dinner

GRANITE CITY — Granite City North held its annual basketball dinner last night in the high school cafeteria and said goodbye to four graduating seniors ... and most of its size.

"We'll be losing our size this year through graduation," said North head coach Bill Ohlendorf.

That'll make it tougher on us next year. But it will also be a challenge to our underclassmen to bring back the winning seasonal records we had here our first three years."

Ohlendorf handed out junior varsity letters to four sophomores: Mike York, Greg Faulkner, Tim Dowman and Mike Robertson.

Juniors receiving junior varsity letters were Roberto Cuevas, Jim Draper and Tom Greco.

Ohlendorf issued eight varsity awards. They were to sophomores Bob Batey and Dennis Page, juniors Greg Leuhman and Rusty Chappell and seniors Richard Briggs, Randy Vandergriff, Rich Willard and Brad Gauen.

Gauen was named as the team's Most Valuable Player for the season. Page received the Best Free Throw Average Award.

"This season is now history," said Ohlendorf. "Hopefully, the team learned something from it."

"ALL SEASON long, we (the coaching staff) preached to you (the team) about dedication. I think it soaked in."

"We learned this season that we cannot relax at anytime during the season. But I'll say this: It was never a chore for me or any of the coaches to stay at practice ... all of you worked very hard."

Ohlendorf then brought the subject of the future.

"I feel that we have got a pretty good nucleus to build a winning team in," he said. "But the fact remains that we really don't have very much size coming back ... unless some of the guys grow quite a lot over the summer and fall, so can enjoy a little leisure time before next basketball season."

VENICE — When a baseball team hasn't had single day's batting practice with two days left before opening day, you'd think the outlook of the coach would be pretty bleak.

But not so with Venice's Ken Perkins. The first-year is "cautiously optimistic" about the season ahead.

"MOSTLY, the kids are optimistic," he said. "I'm cautious."

Because of the rain and melting snow, Venice's baseball

Venice's baseball team plans to have a good time and learn while they're doing it team was finally able to get some batting practice in Tuesday. But they were scheduled to play their season opener on Wednesday.

Perkins said he's got an enthusiastic group out for the team. "We had 20 out for baseball," he said. "That alone has to lift up a coach's spirits some."

PERKINS, who is also the school's cross country coach, the basketball coach AND the athletic director, has a few holdovers from his basketball team out for baseball.

Leading the pack are pitchers Ed Fleig and Frank Pace. Both started the cage season in a Venice uniform, but Pace unexpectedly quit the team and Fleig had to bow out because of a bout with mononucleosis.

FLEIG is a 5-10 senior right-hander who Perkins says is "a good prospect."

He's got pretty good velocity, but has trouble with his control sometimes," said Perkins.

Pace is a 6-4 senior right-hander who will also start at first base when he's not on the mound.

VENICE will also feature a left-hander in its pitching corps; sophomore Donald Gardner, who was also a starter on the Venice basketball team. He stands 6-1 and could be a sleeper, according to Perkins.

THE INFIELD will be anchored down, besides Pace at first, by Donald Matkins, a junior shortstop, Joe Russell a freshman second baseman and Ray Long, a 6-1, 235 pound third baseman. "People had better think twice before they bunt down the third base line with Long chargin' in on 'em," said Perkins in reference to Long's size.

Long was also a "member" of the basketball team, so to speak. He kept all of the statistics for Perkins, both at home and on the road.

Venice will be blessed with a multitude of outfielders. But how good they will be, Perkins isn't sure. "It's kind of hard to tell how your outfielders are until you've also been able to see in some batting practice."

He said, "We've got some guys who are real speedsters and a couple I know will be able to go after the ball."

But what they'll do with it after they get there, I don't know yet."

SHAWN HENDERSON, a 5-10 left-handed senior will see a lot of action in the outfield according to Perkins who describes him as "a real fence climber."

Other outfield prospects are Danny Daniels, a 5-10 senior with good speed, Reggie and Derrick Mathis, two more Venice basketball players.

Ricky Jones, another basketball player and James Cox, who Perkins says will see action as both a utility infielder and outfielder as a freshman.

AS FAR AS hitting is concerned, Perkins isn't too sure about how they will be yet, even though he did get somewhat of an idea in yesterday's game with Beecher.

"We're going to HAVE to be a good defensive team," he said. "Because I don't think we're going to be an offensive powerhouse."

"WE'VE got several guys who I know can smack the ball. Fleig can hit, but not with too much power. Derrick Johnson will probably be our stick, and Pace can also poke the

But the main thing, according to Perkins is to let his guys get a little more practice ... outside, that is.

Those winning prizes in the evening games were Helen McGarrahan, Lorraine Paladin and Marian Ropac.

During the evening talks were given by Mrs. Ropac on her trip to California and by Mrs. Dorothy Brick on a visit she made to Florida.

The hostess served refreshments from a table decorated in an Easter theme to those named and to Marie Planitz, Vivian Rowden, Chrystal Stack, Helen Tencoff and Peggy Cronovich.

Love leaves dedication Sunday

Families in the Nameoki United Presbyterian Church, 1700 Pontoon Road, have been filling "love leaves" throughout the Lenten season and on Sunday morning will bring them to the church for dedication, Rev. Don F. Pierson, pastor, announces.

"This is one of the most exciting programs in the country enabling Christians to respond to hunger, disaster, and emergency needs around the world. The one great hour of sharing Easter offering has been combined with this year's effort and proceeds will be used by World Vision, the United Presbyterian overseas relief efforts and local hunger program, Rev. Pierson added.

Sharing in the celebration will be the Rev. S. Robb McLaughlin, former missionary in Ethiopia. He will speak at the Sunday School hour of 9:45 a.m. on the work in Africa, and also at the 10:45 a.m. worship service, the pastor said.

New members received into the church at the Easter service were Kenneth and Linda Aud, Mrs. Raymond (Kay) Hoffman, Mr. and Mrs. Al (Carolyn) Taylor and Kevin Brooks, a son of Mr. and Mrs. David Brooks.

There will be a chili luncheon served by the Youth Fellowship of the church at noon Sunday. Half of the proceeds of this luncheon will go to the "love leaves" program and one half will go to the mission project of the young people's choosing.

There will be an opportunity to share concerns and questions with the Rev. McLaughlin during this fellowship hour.

Paintings, pottery display

Oil paintings by R. Alter Sparrow and pottery by Barbara Premier Thoele are on display at Madison County Federal Savings and Loan Association, 3600 Nameoki Road, today through April 10.

Mrs. Sparrow has shown her paintings locally and at art exhibits throughout the area. A past member of the Greater Alton Artists Association, she displayed her work at its annual art show, River Roads Art Show, Alton Women's Council Art Exhibits, and at the Alton Area Landmarks Association Visitors Center.

A native of Annapolis, Md., Mrs. Sparrow's earlier paintings were displayed at the annual Annapolis Arts festivals.

Some of her work has been published in travel brochures of Alton and she created a series of stationery of Alton's older homes. At present she teaches oil painting at American Handicrafts.

Mrs. Thoele has had a number of one-man shows of pottery and small sculpture at St. Louis University and Maryville College and her work in clay and her paintings have been included in group shows at the St. Louis Artists Guild, Lewis and Clark College, the River Roads Annual Art Show and other juried shows.

She works primarily in wheel-throwing stoneware, which means the pottery is absolutely safe and durable for oven use.

Mrs. Thoele makes her own clays and glazes. The pots are reduction fired to 2,300 degrees in her soft brick gas-fired kiln. The Thoeles and their four sons own and operate Chain of Rocks Motel at Interstate 270 and Route 3, near Mitchell. Her pottery is always on display in the motel office.

County Board took right, not easy, position on sewers

The last obstacle to obtaining sanitary sewers in many areas of Chouteau, Nameoki and Venice townships was yesterday overcome. A bond issue to pay for the local portion of the cost was sold by the Madison County Board.

Much praise is due the County Board leadership and members for not trying to avoid a task that admittedly involved political peril.

The board pioneered in utilizing relatively new special service area legislation, and its wisdom and courage has since been borne out not only by the courts but by the citizenry.

It is crystal clear that the sewers are badly needed and will be a tremendous "plus" for the areas to be served by them. They are becoming a reality, and nearly all now concede that this is a happy and fortunate situation.

Adding to the joy is the fact that the bond interest of 6.6808 percent is well below the 7.5000 percent used in the tentative projections of the cost at public hearings and meetings on the sewer project. This is true despite the fact that the delay from court appeals caused the bond sale to occur in March rather than the previously proposed fall timing.

And although the delay will cause the initial bond tax payment to be bigger than otherwise would have been the case, the overall yearly property tax rate impact will be less than officials had projected.

A review this week of the probable assessment growth outlined during the sewer planning also shows the likelihood that the valuation base will increase more rapidly than anticipated, lowering the rate below that listed in the tentative tax tables.

The Madison County Board "stood tall" in its sewer service deliberations, and a big portion of the county — the Quad-City area — will benefit.

Soccer-baseball lighting can aid schools and community

Wide support is developing for an athletic field lighting fund that will be the subject of a benefit dinner here this evening.

Lighting of the baseball-soccer sports complex along Fehling Road, north of the football stadium, will enhance the athletic programs of the South and North high schools as well as providing a helpful site for evening contests involving some non-school athletes.

An idea of the costs involved is given by a breakdown of the $75,986 budget — ten light posts $24,000, 104 lighting fixtures $23,920, 22 circuit units including trench, conduit and cable $20,658, 104 1500-watt metal halide lamps $5,408, and electric service panels and controls, $2,000.

The financial goal was not to be an easy one to attain, but through a variety of contributions and pledges this community can achieve it as the project and its advantages become better known.

Alnad Temple
We received a copy of a letter of appreciation in 1912. Prior to that time, each applicant went to Peoria or Chicago to become a Noble of the Mystic Shrine and that meant three days plus train and hotel costs.

Peoria helped us put our Temple together, and in 1913 we received our charter as Temple 130 in the list that now reaches 181.

We met at the Scottish Rite Cathedral in East St. Louis, which at that time was located at 13th and College. It has since moved to 57th Street in Belleville.

We laid the cornerstone of Alnad Temple in 1923, and have been a part of the East St. Louis-Southern Illinois area ever since.

Alnad Temple is composed of 8,400 Nobles scattered throughout the world. Nearly 7,000 are in Illinois and Missouri. You can only join Alnad when you live in Southern Illinois. Many now reside in California, Arizona and Florida because of their retirement. The average age of a Shriner is 58.

There are 38 Shrine clubs in Alnadland, as far north as Staunton and across both sides of the state to Cairo at the base. Some are named after the Shriner who founded them or the Shrine. Some have Arabic names like Ahava at Carmi, or El Kazam at Hardin County. The name Alnad in Arabic means "watering place in the desert."

The Arabic background has nothing to do with the Masonic foundation upon which each Shriner is based. It was only a way to set them apart in dress and style.

There are five temples in Illinois. Medinah in Chicago, Nebala in Rockford, Mohammed in Peoria, Ansa in Springfield, and Alnad in East St. Louis.

The Shriners are known for their parades and units, and Alnad has 37 units to brag about with some of them the best in the Shrine world.

Our hospital unit was the first of its kind. Born in 1965 and chartered by the Imperial Council, it has been the educational arm of Alnad temples as far as Shrine hospitals are concerned.

They travel thousands of miles each year to bring our Shriner units to the Southern Illinois, plus tour guide duty at the hospital for the Shriner units. We have the 100-bed facility on Lindbergh in St. Louis. They show movies and slides, and tell stories to help find the children who need us for orthopedic conditions and burn treatment.

Our Shriner units come to see the parade a year, and our band is one of the best. The Alnad Patrol Band has held many championships, also along with our Oriental Band.

The Granite City Compacts, a motor group, have been champions in runners in Great Lakes competition for many years, and so have our clowns. Our Provost Guard is the best in the Midwest, and is highly trained in all phases.

The Provost Guard helps Madison and St. Clair Counties in time of need, and helped East St. Louis in the disastrous explosion downtown a few years ago.

The Color Guard won the Great Lakes championship last year in Columbus, Ohio, while many of our other units were placing or winning against the other 25 temples represented.

Alnad Temple has sent 2647 children to the St. Louis Unit of Shriners Hospitals in the past 15 years, making Alnad the top temple in child aid in regard to population count and membership.

Our 25th average year is so far above many it seems unreal, but it is because everyone in Southern Illinois is interested in the work of the hospitals. The hospitals are free to the children who need the help.

When we were sending 247 children in the past 15 years, Springfield, Ill., was sending 800, Terre Haute, Ind., was sending 350, and Murat Temple in Indianapolis with its 20,000 Shriners was averaging 25 children per year.

Last year, Granite City had 20 children, Belleville 12, Alton 10 and East St. Louis eight. The 28 children came from 107 communities.

We spend nearly $100,000 per year having buses, children travel back and forth to Cincinnati to 30-bed Burns Center there. There are clinic visits after we bring them back home from the initial visit.

They go back and forth every three to six months in the van we have at the Temple. Two Shrine drivers take three to four mothers and children on each two-day trip.

There are 48 children who are carrying back and forth. This is only stops when they are released or reach age 16.

Most of the money that is used for the burns travel comes from a special fund raised with the help of Knights of Columbus Councils in Southern Illinois that work with the Shrine Clubs on benefit dances and projects.

The K. of C. use their hall share for a retarded children's program, and we use ours for the burns travel expense.

The Chakia K. of C. Council was the first group to help us with this, and now we have quite a program. It will be recognized April 27 when all these K. of C. Councils will be at Alnad Temple for a tenth anniversary party.

Our "Bonds for Braces" program is in its third million dollar year, and it works for Uncle Sam for nearly six years while the bonds are waiting to mature and be turned over to the hospital.

This program could be called a "flag waver" in a sense, but the Masonic organization is purely an American organization composed of all types of religious, such as Protestant, Jew, Catholic and any others that recognize the Supreme Being. We work for Uncle Sam for awhile and know the money will be spent later to help a crippled child.

The budget this year for our 18 orthopedic hospitals — St. Louis has the largest — and our three burns centers is $45,000,000. The St. Louis Budget is $2,300,000 and yet not one cent is collected from insurance companies, Uncle Sam, or welfare of any kind.

Every penny we send is used by the hospital, and none is used for promotion, since each Temple does that on its own, and that usually is why the Shrine circus helps each Temple.

For the past few years, we have sent more money to the St. Louis hospital unit than any of the other 20 Temples, including St. Louis Moulton Temple.

They use the slogan of "the circus with a purpose," aiding the hospital and other charities. We do not use the name of the hospital in any way to raise this money.

Many people get Moolah and Alnad mixed at circus time. We have ours and they have theirs. They are hiring the same circus this year that we have been using for a number of years because they know it is a good show. We present it at Belleville and Granite City each year.

When we have Alnad's 65th birthday party at the Belle Clair Fairgrounds this year, you will see many prominent people who got a healthy start at the Shriners' Hospital.

Work together to improve government

To the Editor:

I am thankful to everyone who helped me in the 26th County Board district, not only the voters, but the many people who stuck by me to the end.

It would be impossible to name them all.

I was also proud to get the endorsement of the Tri-City Trades and Labor. I will always remember and respect that endorsement.

One thing I learned many years ago in elections is that, if you want to separate your friends from your enemies, just run for a public office.

That's one time people will show their true colors.

Some of my enemies did this by running a third party to defeat me.

The name of the game is "split up the vote so she can't win."

In all fairness, not all of the third candidate's backers were in favor of it turning out like it did.

And some were just plain dumb about it all. But that's the risks involved, boys, when you run your own campaign.

Losing an election is something no serious candidate likes.

But it's how you conduct yourself from then on into the next election that is very important.

The best thing to do is first of all, congratulate the winner, which I did.

The second thing is to let him know that I will continue to work for the good of the people of the district, and to call on me for any help he may need.

I love being active. I love politics.

I love the people, and I enjoy helping the majority when they need me.

Throughout this election, I may say that I do respect the winner for not slandering and writing tales such as my other opponent has done.

I do not now and never intend supporting bossism or machine politics.

Nor do I support the idea of special favors for special friends at the county or any other level.

If I did the things he accused me of doing, I think I would have a big political office somewhere in the county.

The things I do have are a very dear husband who over the years has allowed me to spend his money to deal with the issues and problems, and two wonderful children who love, help and understand their mother. And that's something worth bragging about.

The "against" time is over and now it's time to work with the winner. I have always tried to do, to help make this a better government for all of us.

Wolf-Lucco race demonstrates importance of each voter

The 47½-vote victory recorded for former State Representative Sam Wolf in the official returns Tuesday makes a point that voters need to always keep in mind — that their individual participation can and does have a big effect.

In the cumulative voting for Illinois House candidates in March 1978 primary balloting, any eight who cast three-vote support for Mr. Wolf could have changed the outcome if they instead had voted for Rep. Joe Lucco. Or, any 16 additional voters could have achieved the same difference in the primary result.

The decision that was verified by this week's canvasses is a happy one for Quad-Cityans wishing to see Mr. Wolf return to the General Assembly. But the generally light Illinois turnout is sad, with millions of citizens missing the opportunity to have a voice in choosing nominees for public offices in the state.

As demonstrated once again by the closeness of the 56th Legislative District race, it is often true that one individual or ballot can directly decide the outcome of ballot competition.

Parties organizing at township, county levels

Democratic and Republican precinct committeemen from throughout Madison County will meet separately in Edwardsville at 7 p.m. Monday to select their county chairmen and officers.

The Democratic committeemen are to meet at St. John's Methodist Church near the county courthouse. The Republican committeemen are to meet at the third floor courtroom normally used for the meeting is being remodelled.

The Republican committeemen also are to meet in Edwardsville, but are awaiting word from their chairman whether the meeting will be in the courthouse or in the church.

Meanwhile, the township Democratic and Republican organizations are selecting township chairmen prior to Monday's meeting.

County Democratic Chairman Nelson Hagauer of Granite City has indicated his desire to step down from the position. The Madison County Republican chairman is Dr. Edward Ragdale of Godfrey.

Contenders mentioned for the Democratic post include Christ Costoff of Madison, George Demetrius of Wood River and Madison Mayor Mike Sasyk.

Willard Herzing Sr., of Granite City, is said to have expressed interest in the leadership role within the Democratic party.

Sources indicate either a three-way or four-way race may be shaping up for the Granite City Township Democratic committee chairmanship with the incumbent chairman, Alderman Gerald "Jerry" Parmley of Precinct 32, willing to step down in that position but not actively seeking it.

Possible opponents include Attorney Dick Allen of Precinct 17, long-term committeeman William "Bill" Harrison of Precinct 16, Jack Hagop Varadian of Precinct 10, and possibly someone from the Get Granite Going group.

Parmley said he will probably be working at Granite City Steel when the meeting is held, and will not make a strong bid to

Lucco — Kept faith, labor didn't

The laborers of the Tri-Cities forgot my labor voting record and did not keep the faith. I will always support the laborers, the county and the state.

I am considering running for an office as an independent in November. Keep me in mind. Again, thanks to my friends who kept the faith politically.

State Representative

Public has rejected the notion that a slating committee composed of approximately 30 people should be empowered to manage the party machinery in such fashion as to make it virtually impossible for new candidates, although highly qualified, to be nominated for public office.

The Democratic Party, if it is to continue to be successful, is going to have to take on a new image.

The party is going to have to open itself up to greater participation by the general public.

The idea of the employee log, the patronage device and party affairs at the back of closed doors are things of the past.

There is no reason that the general public and the news media should not be present at such meetings as the county convention.

Police break up student gathering; arrest three

Police arrested three youths yesterday morning near Granite City High School South and warned numerous others after being told of disorderly gatherings and marijuana smoking before school.

At 7:45 a.m. Wednesday, officers were called to Mrs. Seebold's Bakery in Nameoki Village Shopping Center where a large group of high school-age children were blocking the entry door.

About 20 youths were told to leave and complied, but a group formed moments later at Mr. Donut on Nameoki Road. Told again to disperse, they complied, but reformed at Church's Fried Chicken.

There, the students allegedly called police pigs, used profanity and shouted, "Oink, Oink." When told to leave, several ran to the rear of the building.

As officers approached, one juvenile allegedly yelled to his brother, "Put the (marijuana) joint out." The brother ran, dropping a plastic bag behind him. He was arrested and the bag was found to contain three marijuana cigarettes.

Both brothers were arrested and the 13-year-old was placed in a squad car. The 15-year-old allegedly refused to get in the car and forced had to be used to arrest him. They were later released to their father on $35 bond each, charged with disorderly conduct.

A 17-year-old was stopped by school security monitors at 8:30 a.m. Wednesday after allegedly entering the school with a plastic bag containing 26 grams of marijuana in a sock.

Monitors said they watched a group of youths on the Grand Avenue tennis courts passing a cigarette around and waited until they entered the school building before searching them.

Steve Stone, 17, of 230 Holiday Mobile Home Park, was charged with unlawful possession of cannabis and was released at 12:30 p.m. Wednesday after posting a $100 cash bond.

Meeting tonight of Venice board

The Venice Board of Education will hold a special meeting at 7 p.m. today for the purpose of appointing an interim board secretary, replacing Jack Tolliver, who will be absent at the next meeting due to work commitments.

Supt. of Schools Robert N. Vickers said the action is being taken on advice of Board Attorney Lawrence Hartman, because of canvassing the ballots following the April 8 school district election.

The board has cancelled its regular meetings on April 6 and April 20 and will meet instead on Monday, April 17 to officially confirm the election results and conduct regular business, Vickers said.

Part-time students looming larger in university services

Emphasis on service, high ethical standards and the worthiness of each person's contribution to society make Southern Illinois at Edwardsville a partner with volunteer organizations that are striving to make this region a better place to work and live, according to Dr. Kenneth A. Shaw, president of the university.

In an address at Tuesday's weekly luncheon meeting of the Granite City Rotary Club, Dr. Shaw discussed future trends in higher education and how individual citizens will be affected.

He also compared the purposes and significance of volunteer organizations like Rotary International with his goals for the university.

"When I came to SIUE a little over a year ago, I spoke with high optimism in saying that I wanted nothing less than making SIUE the best of its kind anywhere," the president said. "If we were to do this, we had to provide the highest quality service we could."

The president said SIUE will use both basic and innovative approaches to adjust to trends in education while providing the best possible educational opportunities.

With a word of caution in the discussion of "trends," because "they seem to flow as quickly as rapids on a river," the president said there are four dynamic forces now at work to shape the future of education:

1. Continuing education for adults.
2. Emphasis on accountability.
3. Innovation from within.

4. Resurrection of emphasis on basic skills.

Citing the median age of SIUE students as being above 24 and predicting that within five years, more than half of the university's students will be part-time, Dr. Shaw said, "Many citizens are discovering there may still be more in the world to learn. We see a much stronger involvement in what is referred to as continuing education."

On the subject of accountability, the president said there is a new spirit of evaluation of performance at the level of higher education: "It's no longer a simple matter of giving and getting course grades."

Describing the new charter of innovation, Dr. Shaw observed that "it now has a better, more internal focus."

Regarding the fourth trend, he said, "We are returning to emphasis on the basic values of reading with understanding, writing with clarity and measuring with accuracy."

The president outlined specific steps his administration is taking.

"First of all," he said, "we are taking SIUE to the people. In stretching our thinking, we will extend the perimeters of our campus."

"Our scheduling will become more convenient and flexible. To shorten the long lines which have become the bane of everyone's existence, we will conduct registration by mail. There will be special seminars, conferences, and retreats on weekends."

Dr. Shaw pointed to the university's new bachelor's of arts program in liberal arts, which allows the student to tailor studies to his or her interests and needs.

He said this offering should be especially attractive to "mature" adults, and he revealed that one in four students currently attending the university is over 35.

The president also referred to the open university program, which provides courses on television coordinated to the individual needs of the person.

And he said he believes credit should be given for knowledge gained from personal experience.

"By using carefully designed examinations to measure competency, we can decide whether we should give credit or not," Dr. Shaw said.

"Experience outside our walls should count for what it is worth."

Declaring there are 17 million adults in "adult" learning outside higher education, the president said that in 1976, a recession year, the nation's 7,500 largest private employers spent over $2 billion on employee education—as much as the annual total in recent years of all contributions and grants to all U.S. colleges and universities from all sources.

At least one out of eight of the 32 million employees of these firms took part in some formal, off-the-job education or training while under company sponsorship, Dr. Shaw said, as he suggested that "perhaps business has something to tell education about doing a better job."

He asked, "Can we explore partnership roles in this regard?"

"With dialogue, can we discover whether we are more cost-efficient? Let's approach this with open minds—but, by all means, let's approach it."

The Shaw administration is developing evaluation models for administrative performance, faculty, programs and services both within the university and outside in the community.

"Everyone should be mature enough to have his professional performance subjected to objective judgment," the president said.

"All administrators will be evaluated annually, and systematic ways of assessing programs and services are going into effect."

On the subject of innovation, Dr. Shaw said, "Sabbaticals and development leaves for our academic staff will be structured so that professional and institutional needs will mesh. Whatever re-tooling is necessary, we will find ways to accomplish it."

Referring to his "back to the basics" emphasis, Dr. Shaw said, "All schools must respond to the demand to upgrade their standards and tighten their requirements."

The president said he thinks less emphasis should be placed on standards of admission and more concern directed toward developing and demonstrating competency in students.

Dr. Shaw said SIUE needs talent grants to attract and retain outstanding students.

His Presidential Scholar Program proposes to award talent grants to students or prospective students who have demonstrated an "extra intellectual spark and drive that mark them as outstanding now, with potential for greatness in the future."

The president said the region, as well as the university, will benefit by the program to attract scholars.

"As the university grows better, the caliber of service we can give to the region will produce commensurate benefits. We must all prosper together."

Dr. Shaw emphasized that the majority of SIUE graduates are remaining in this region to become leaders in business, industry, the professions and public affairs.

Expressing confidence in the future, and his determination to make SIUE the best of its kind, Pres. Shaw said, "The process in which the university has grown has given us the structural challenges we are currently facing are more humanely promising than ever before."

Driver injured

Gregory Baur, 21, of 2440 Kilarney Drive, was injured when his northbound auto swerved to miss a dog in the 3100 block of Felling Road, went out of control, crossed the oncoming lane, left the roadway and struck a tree at 1:30 a.m. today.

He was taken by Granite City ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital where he was treated for a cut to the left side of his mouth and jaw, pain in his right ankle and foot, and chest and other injuries. X-rays indicated his right ankle may be broken and he was transferred to Christian Northeast Hospital in St. Louis.

The local students will rehearse all day Saturday under Sparger's supervision in preparation of the evening concert.

A variety of sacred and secular music will be performed in the festival by the 100-voice elementary chorus, about 150 junior high school students from Prather, Grigsby and Coolidge schools and the advanced mixed choruses from North and South high schools. The latter consists of 80 students.

All three choral groups will combine to present the finale, "I Believe in Music."

National Steel sees some problems but a generally bright 1978 outlook

By CHAIRMAN
GEORGE STINSON and PRESIDENT H. M. LOVE of National Steel Corporation

Nineteen seventy-seven was not a good year for our corporation as a whole. From the beginning of the year, the company was beset by major problems arising from severe weather conditions, strikes and greatly increased imports of steel.

We take encouragement, however, from two general considerations:

During the year 1977, many of the company's divisions continued to turn in outstanding performances despite these difficulties.

Our major 1977 problems — strikes, weather and imports — are not likely to be with us to the same degree in 1978.

We are hopeful that the new year, after a troubled start with the coal strike in the first quarter, will be a good one for the corporation.

The severe 1977 winter is no longer news to any of us. However, its sharp impact on integrated steel plants, peculiarly vulnerable to fuel shortages and adverse weather conditions, demolished our first-quarter results and had lingering effects into the second quarter.

This year's winter, while also severe, has not had as great an adverse impact.

In addition, we have learned much about how to deal with adverse weather conditions, especially with respect to fuel problems.

In June, we experienced the beginning of illegal coal strikes which closed down most of our coal operations until after Labor Day.

In August, a general strike, also illegal, developed at the Minnesota iron ore operations.

The net effect of these two work stoppages was to penalize severely our financial results in the third and fourth quarters.

The prolonged shutdown of these mines and plants greatly reduced overall net income, as substantial anticipated profits were replaced by significant losses arising from fixed carrying charges.

The iron ore strike was ultimately settled in mid-December with no impairment of the "no-strike" aspects of our contract with the United Steelworkers.

The general coal strike, which began on Dec. 6 as the labor agreement expired, had its own sharp impact on year-end results, although ample coal and coke supplies on hand assure continued steel operations for some time despite the strike.

The record duration of this strike sharply reduced profitability in the first quarter. Not only have major idle expenses at these mines replaced anticipated profits, but coke production costs have risen as coking cycles were stretched out. And power shortages have resulted in operations at less than maximum efficiencies.

With the coal strike behind us, the outlook is good for continued operations in 1978 in the Mineral Resources Division.

Progress has also been made in dealing with the third major difficulty of 1977 — increasing imports.

The Administration in Washington seems now to be fully alert to the essential unfairness and illegality of the dumping of foreign steel in this market.

We believe the so-called "higher price" system for the early detection of dumping can lead to the essential elimination of dumping if it is properly administered.

The program has some obvious pitfalls, but the Administration has indicated a determination to make it work. We will be monitoring developments here very closely.

Other steps proposed by the administration to assist the industry through review of environmental regulations have yet to be implemented, but they also can bring needed relief to our capital formation problems.

Taken all in all, the prospects for substantial improvement in domestic steel shipments in 1978 are definitely good as a result of this program.

The negative impact of the above factors in 1977 was particularly tantalizing to the management of National Steel because the demand for our products was at a good level and the year should have been much better than 1977.

Operations throughout the corporation were relatively good in the last nine months of the year at multiple programs to cut costs and improve productivity began to show their effects. For example, our energy conservation program contributed to a 10 percent cut in energy use.

We have experienced particular difficulties at the Weirton Division, arising both from operations and from commercial developments.

Loss of productivity has been a major problem addressed by the new management teams which we installed at Weirton early in the year, with improvement to date and more expected.

Tin mill products profitability has been a prime concern as we sought to cope with the multiple impact of cost increases in pig tin, a burdensome but necessary "allowance" program for beer and beverage plate, and an inadequate price structure.

Improvement has been effected here by the discontinuance of the allowance program early in the new year and by some price relief.

Of particular note in 1977 were the outstanding performance and financial results in the National Aluminum subsidiary.

Improving efficiencies, a better price structure, and highly capable management were jointly responsible for this showing despite escalating power and materials costs.

Many programs throughout the corporation have advanced during the year, including the beginning of operations at the Great Lakes continuous slab caster, the establishment of a group to capitalize on our excess raw material reserves of coal and ore, and the beginning of full-scale operation at National Pipe and Tube Company, our oil country goods subsidiary.

During the past three years, the corporation has invested roughly $750 million to enhance its raw materials position and steelmaking capacity.

This new capacity places the corporation in an excellent position for 1978.

With this program now completed, capital expenditures are expected to decline in 1978.

This factor, together with a stringent inventory-reduction program begun this year, will permit further strengthening of our balance sheet.

A major requirement in 1977, which will be with us for some years, was the need to spend large capital amounts on environmental control equipment.

In the year just completed, the total approached 30 percent of all capital outlays, and similar spending requirements lie ahead.

We are hopeful that review by the EPA of its regulations will give some recognition to the enormous and essentially unique problems in dealing with the environment in an integrated steel plant.

We fully support national environmental objectives and have spent large amounts of our stockholders' money to install and operate needed equipment.

We believe, however, that some of the time frames mandated by the EPA have been overly ambitious and should be re-evaluated.

Finally, viewing the widespread difficulties of the steel industry, including major plant closings, it is satisfying to be able to report to our stockholders that the corporation's facilities are modern and efficient.

As a result of long-continued programs to advance technology at substantial cost, National Steel has no mills which are inefficient or obsolete or are candidates for closing and abandonment.

We have said above that we are optimistic for 1978 because we view the year, once the dislocations caused by the coal strike are behind us, as one relatively free of trouble and with good prospects for growth in domestic steel shipments as imports recede.

The continuing efforts of demand for our products also seems to be in prospect.

Some doubt exists as to whether shipments to the automotive market can be sustained at 1977 levels, in view of some weakening in auto sales and the continuing efforts of auto manufacturers to downsize and lighten weight in their products.

We believe we have good prospects for holding our own levels of tonnage as a result of our new product developments, such as "lighter-weight" High-strength steels.

The outlook for tin mill products appears to be brighter than for some time in the past as steel recaptures a growing share of the beer and beverage can market.

The economic and other advantages of steel, versus other materials, is reflected in the surge in the installation and conversion of two-piece steel can lines.

We look for an increase in total shipments of tin mill products in 1978 over the relatively good levels of 1977.

Other markets for our products — including oil country goods, steel for the broad agricultural markets and for construction and transportation markets — appear similarly to have good 1978 prospects.

On the operating side, we expect substantial cost benefits from new equipment usage — such as the slab caster at Great Lakes and the cold mill at Weirton — as well as from multiple programs to cut costs and improve efficiencies.

All in all, 1978, after a poor first quarter, could be the beginning of the "better years" we have been pointing toward for some time.

We believe the organization within the company is in excellent shape. The reorganization of division presidents announced last year is in place and operating effectively.

A new National Mineral Resources Division was established in June, with Richard E. Thompson as president.

The division is responsible for the operations of all National's divisions and subsidiaries engaged in mineral and raw materials activities as well as supervision of the corporation's interests in other mineral firms in which it has a financial interest.

In addition, in Pittsburgh we have added James E. Haas as administrative vice-president in charge of cost control and other related programs.

A new finance committee has been established to assume responsibility for the review and control of all capital spending. This committee is headed by Richard S. Smith, who has been promoted to senior vice-president and has been added to the board of directors.

The corporation's board of directors serves most effectively as it has in the past to direct and manage the corporation's affairs.

The board exercises its responsibility for financial control through its audit committee.

Other important board committees include the executive committee and a new personnel and compensation committee, consisting of three directors — Henry T. Bodman (chairman), Gilbert W. Humphrey and Maurice R. Chambers — to assume certain functions previously discharged by the executive committee.

In these times when greater emphasis is being given to the vital overall directing authority of the board of directors, the stockholders will wish to note that our Board consists predominantly of outside directors, and that its committees are well-positioned to maintain close control over all vital corporate affairs and policy decisions.

Walker L. Ciesler, after 20 years of able and devoted service as a member of the board of directors, has reached a decision not to stand for reelection at the annual meeting April 26.

He leaves the board with our deep appreciation for his help and effective counsel and direction during his lengthy service.

A final word of well-deserved appreciation to all whose efforts support National Steel's future and results; to its stockholders for their effective and loyal support; to its customers for their continuing trust and patronage; to its employees without whose solid dedication the corporation could not function effectively.

To each of these we extend warm appreciation and respect.

Granite City Steel had a record year in 1977 on the strength of growing demand from the automotive, oil country and construction industries, and from benefits achieved from intensive cost-reduction programs.

The pace of industrial expansion in the South and West continued to favor Granite City's location and product mix during the year.

For example, one-third of Granite City's shipments to automotive suppliers went to customers acquired during the last few years.

Shipments of hot-rolled coils for use in oil country pipe and tubing increased almost 50 percent in 1977, and other gains are expected in the coming year.

Demand for the division's building products also increased, with shipments of panel sheets to the metal building industry rising almost 50 percent.

Sales of color-coated Strongpanel sheets and galvanized grain sheets for the farm market continued to grow.

In addition, Granite City Steel has become a major supplier of high-strength steels used in pulleys for roof-support systems.

With the start-up of a fourth slab-heating furnace, which increases the capacity on the 80-inch hot strip mill more than 20 percent — and its ability to roll thicknesses of more than 3/4-inch in coil form — Granite City Steel is well-positioned to increase its shipments to other marketing areas.

Two major environmental control facilities were completed in 1977 — a new wastewater treatment plant that meets state and federal standards; and an enclosed, one-spot, coke-pushing emission control system which was developed by Granite City Steel to answer one of the steel industry's most difficult environmental problems.

Construction is scheduled to begin in 1978 on new coke oven facilities, which will replace two old batteries, and on additional environmental improvements including an electrostatic precipitator for another coke oven battery.

Police to ask felony warrant

Granite City police plan to seek a felony warrant against a 29-year-old Venice man who allegedly attempted to cash a stolen $1,500 check at First Granite City National Bank at 3:05 p.m. Tuesday.

The check was made out by the state comptroller to Dr. A. M. Datun, who has his offices in the medical building at 2044 Madison Ave., where the man allegedly was employed as a custodian.

Authorities said three checks were missing from the doctor's office, the others being for $80 and $78.

Emergency medical data cards, stickers available

Secretary of State Alan J. Dixon this week announced that special emergency medical information cards and stickers are now available at each driver services facility throughout Illinois.

The emergency medical cards and stickers have been developed in connection with a new state law requiring each driver's license issued to have a space marked on the reverse side where a driver may affix a small sticker.

The sticker would alert authorities that the driver is carrying a special medical information card containing specific information regarding the person's physical condition.

"The card provides space for listing medication being taken, allergies and the existence of other medical problems, such as diabetes or epilepsy," Dixon said. "Such information is especially important in accidents or incidents where a driver may be unconscious."

The secretary of state said he recommended and strongly supported the legislation providing for this emergency medical information concept. "The bill in the General Assembly was sponsored by Sen. Vivian Hickey and Rep. E. J. "Zeke" Giorgi, both of Rockford.

Dixon expressed thanks to the Illinois State Medical Society for developing and providing the information cards. He also thanked the Illinois Department of Public Health for designing and producing the sticker, which depicts the "cross of life," the universal emergency medical information symbol.

The society and the department both supported passage of the new law.

"It is heartwarming to see this kind of cooperation with the secretary of state's office in response to our common goal of protecting the health, safety and well-being of Illinois citizens," Dixon said. He noted the medical information sticker may even be attached to the reverse side of driver's licenses issued prior to enactment of the new law, although no space is specifically indicated. In this instance, the sticker should be placed on the back of the license in the upper corner in the blank area, he said.

"Stickers should be located where no printed material is covered or obliterated."

"Secretary of state employees at driver services facilities throughout the state will assist interested drivers in identifying the proper area for stickers on the driver's license," he related.

Dixon said another new law directs that all driver's licenses issued since January 1978 include a space where drivers may write their blood type and Rh factor. This legislation was sponsored by Sen. Howard W. Carroll of Chicago and Rep. Bruce Waddell of Dundee.

The new arrival is also the first child of Mr. and Mrs.

Procedure to delay income tax deadline

Taxpayers can extend their tax return filing deadline for two months by filing a Form 4868, Ira S. Loeb, IRS district director for Central and Southern Illinois, said this week.

To obtain Form 4868, "Application for Automatic Extension of Time to File U.S. Individual Income Tax Return," taxpayers may contact an IRS office.

When requesting an extension, the taxpayer must make two copies of Form 4868. The original is filed with the IRS on or before the due date of the tax return and the duplicate must be attached to the actual tax return when it is later filed.

In sending the original copy of Form 4868 on or before the due date, the taxpayer also must estimate his or her tax bill for that year and enclose full payment for the tax liability. Later, when sending the duplicate copy with the return, the amount of tax previously paid is to be entered on the appropriate line of Form 1040.

If the amount previously paid is less than the amount owed, taxpayers must pay interest on the unpaid amount. In addition, if the unpaid amount is over 10 percent of the total tax bill, the law permits the levy of additional penalties on the taxpayer.

Taxpayers receiving an extension of time to file the Form 1040A or have the IRS compute their tax bill.

U.S. citizens outside the U.S. or Puerto Rico on the date of their tax deadlines can receive an automatic two-month extension of the filing deadline without filing Form 4868. This provision applies to both taxpayers whose deadline is April 15 and taxpayers who file returns on a fiscal year basis.

Taxpayers who qualify for this extension must attach a statement to their tax return when they file, stating they were outside the U.S. or Puerto Rico on the date of their filing deadline.

Deadline extensions past the two-month extension date are granted only under unusual circumstances, according to the IRS.

Requests for an additional extension should be filed early so that the taxpayers will be able to file the return on time should the request for extension be rejected, Loeb said.

From little raisins, mighty farm legislation can grow

Press-Record
Washington Bureau

The multi-billion farm aid package approved last week by the Senate grew from a little raisin.

Nourished by striking farmers and cultivated by congressmen fearing farmers' wrath at election time, the non-controversial raisin bill was amended to include a plethora of proposals to aid agriculture.

It grew from humble roots. The bill was introduced by Rep. John H. Krebs, D-Calif., with the express purpose of amending federal marketing order provisions to authorize market development and research for raisins.

It began with a modest $7,500 price tag.

But a funny thing happened on the way out of the Senate.

Amendments blossomed forth like tomatoes on a vine.

Raisins were left to dry while the emphasis turned to aiding producers of wheat, corn and other food grains, soybeans and cotton and to providing more federal credit to financially ailing farmers.

New Senate Budget Committee Chairman Edmund Muskie, D-Maine, says no one can measure with certainty the full effect the bill will have on federal spending, food prices, inflation and crop surpluses.

Senate Agriculture Committee Chairman Herman E. Talmadge, D-Ga., said the bill was adopted as a vehicle by his committee "in order to have the quickest possible consideration of the emergency provisions of the legislation in both the Senate and the House."

The objective is to provide some relief before the spring planting.

But things are proceeding a little too rapidly from some viewpoints.

Hyde Murray, counsel to Republicans on the House Agriculture Committee, points out that the Senate's use of a House-approved bill blocks both the House Agriculture and Appropriations committees from considering Senate amendments which virtually rewrite the bill.

Instead, the measure, now known as the "Talmadge Bill," goes to a House-Senate conference committee.

To the original raisin provisions, Talmadge added his one-year program to pay producers of wheat, feed grains, upland cotton and soybeans to leave acreage idle—a step the Carter Administration already has the authority to do but has balked at doing.

Talmadge also upped the spending limits on farm real estate and operating loans and increased the borrowing authority of the Federal Agriculture Credit Corp. from $14.5 billion to $25 billion.

Sen. George McGovern, D-S.D., "got into the act" with an amendment raising target and loan prices, the ceiling and floor on government price support guarantees to farmers.

Sen. Robert Dole, R-Kan., rounded out the package by inserting his "Flexibility Parity" plan as an option for farmers who don't like Talmadge's "Land-Diversion" approach.

Under Dole's "pick your parity" provisions, the individual wheat, cotton or feed grain farmer can decide how much of his acreage he wants to set aside.

The more he sets aside, the higher the target price on the crops he does produce.

Reservations are required and will be honored in the order received due to the limited capacity of the school gym, Schaefer reports.

A bowling program for special education students in the Quad-City area will be offered at the Granite City Army Installation to begin Saturday, April 1, according to Mrs. Kay Hahne, president of the Parents Club for Special Education Students.

Children who will participate in the project will be provided bus transportation at a cost of $1 per child, Mrs. Hahne added.

Annual Easter Seal ball

The Easter Seal Society of Southeastern Illinois, which includes the Quad-City area, will conduct its fourth annual Easter Seal Ball on Saturday, April 15, at Augustine's Restaurant, Belleville, featuring Tex Benke and his Orchestra.

"Music in the Glenn Miller Mood" is the theme for this year's dance as Tex Benke was a big part of the original Glenn Miller team in the 1940s. The evening's entertainers will play favorites like Tuxedo Junction, "Chattanooga, Choo Choo," "In the Mood," and many other Miller favorites plus a collection of today's hits.

Proceeds from the dance will help the Easter Seal Society of Southeastern Illinois finance multiple services offered area handicapped children and adults such as information, referral, follow-up services, speech therapy, purchase of orthopedic equipment (wheelchairs, braces, crutches), equipment loan program, and summer day camping programs.

In addition to financing ongoing programs, monies will be used to develop several new areas of program services. The Easter Seal Society of Southeastern Illinois serves the counties of Bond, Calhoun, Clinton, Greene, Jersey, Macoupin, Madison, Monroe, Montgomery, St. Clair and Washington.

The evening's festivities will begin at 6 p.m. with a cocktail hour, a buffet dinner from 7 to 9 p.m. and music and dancing from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. Intermissions will be used for a benefit auction featuring antiques, a 1968 Chevrolet pickup truck with camper, courtesy of

Madison-Venice ambulance calls must go to police

Granite City Fire Chief Don Parente is notifying residents of the cities of Madison and Venice that emergency calls for ambulance service should be made to the Madison or Venice police.

Stipulations in the contract between the cities and Granite City for ambulance service assure Granite City payment of all ambulance calls to those cities only if the call is placed to Granite City ambulance service by the police dispatchers in Madison and Venice.

Calls made by residents directly to the ambulance service will result in the ambulance service calling the police dispatcher to verify that the address is in one of the two cities and that the cities will assure payment of the bill.

A ruling by Granite City

Attorney Linda Callis that the city's ambulance service, which is supported by city taxpayers, cannot make calls outside of the city which lose money caused the ambulance service to demand guaranteeing payment for every ambulance call outside the city limits.

All Quad-City area townships, cities and village signed contracts, guaranteeing payment of the ambulance bills the residents do not pay, but Madison and Venice added stipulations guaranteeing payment only for ambulance calls directed through the police dispatcher.

For ambulance service, Madison residents should call the police at 876-4300, and Venice residents should call 877-2114.

Church Women plan busy May schedule

May Fellowship Day, service to seniors and a Special Olympics luncheon project were among the topics discussed by members of the Church Women United's executive board at its March meeting in the Nameoki United Presbyterian Church.

Mrs. Marion Pierson, CWU president, opened the business session with prayer.

Some of the required food, drink and supplies have been secured for the Special Olympics Luncheon program, Mrs. Pat McAmish, chairman, reported to the group.

She emphasized, however, that additional supplies still are needed in order to provide a sufficient quantity of refreshments for the 1,200 young people scheduled to be involved in Special Olympics events at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

The youth athletes will compete on Saturday, May 6, at the SIUE soccer field.

Mrs. McAmish said volunteers also are needed for the week of May 1 to May 6 to help prepare and serve the meals.

She invited those willing to participate in the large-scale feeding program to sign up now.

The chairman said a room at the JATH building in Madison is being made available to CWU for the storage and assembling of materials. Prairie Farms Dairy also has offered use of a refrigerated truck for the project, she announced.

Partial assembling of the lunches will be accomplished following the May Fellowship program, Mrs. McAmish said.

May Fellowship Day will take place on Friday, May 5, at St. Mary's Catholic Church in Madison. Registration will be at 10:30 a.m. with the service beginning at 11 o'clock.

During the program, Karen Mueller will lead the dedication of the Fellowship of the Least Coin service. Luncheon will be served at 12 noon, with continuing fellowship throughout the lunch hour.

Blankets and money collected for blankets at various churches in the Quad-Cities during April will be received that day, Mrs. Pam Peters, CROP chairman, announced.

At a representatives' luncheon, set May 22 at Concordia Lutheran Church, Church Women United representatives will attend and the pastors of member-churches will be invited, Mrs. Pierson said.

Ninety-nine attended the recent World Day of Prayer celebration sponsored by Church Women United, and the board expressed appreciation to the guest speaker, Sister Geraldine, the Rev. Charlotte Zachary, host pastor, the New Life Singers and the CWU planning committee.

An offering of $167 received at the celebration was sent to the Intercontinental Mission project, supported by the National Church Women United, Mrs. Pierson said.

Inflation cruelest tax? Cars $6,200, homes $50,300, college bill $12,000 to $19,600

Senator Charles H. Percy (R-Ill.) has introduced a major tax cut bill intended to give middle-income taxpayers more buying power and businesses more investment incentives. His target is what he calls a cruel tax — inflation.

The bill — the Tax Reduction Act of 1978 — would provide tax relief totaling $24 billion for individuals and $12 billion for businesses in 1979.

Percy said a tax cut should put the emphasis on taxpayers who earn between $10,000 and $29,000. This group pays over 50 percent of all federal income taxes, he added.

"Some consider these taxpayers too well-off to receive tax relief."

"But their buying power has been slashed by inflation that has driven the average cost of a new car to $6,200, the average cost of a home to $50,300 and the average cost of a four-year college education to between $12,000 and $19,600."

Percy said, "Inflation is the single greatest cause of the increased tax burden for middle-income taxpayers."

"Inflation eats away at wage and salary increases with such a vengeance that it is almost impossible for individuals and families to keep pace. As soon as earnings go up, inflation strikes, making the increases meaningless."

He joined five of his Senate colleagues in introducing the tax cut bill, which Percy said would provide considerable more tax relief than President Jimmy Carter proposed in January.

"The administration promised to cut taxes for 96 percent of American taxpayers, but its tax cut proposal would really provide relief for only 20 percent of the taxpayers," Percy said.

Calling inflation the cruelest tax of all, Percy said the Tax Reduction Act of 1978 would help individual taxpayers by offsetting tax hikes caused by inflation, and limiting the impact of newly-enacted Social Security tax increases.

"The bill provides a permanent tax cut to give total protection against inflation for all taxpayers for the next three years."

It gives nearly total protection to most taxpayers against new Social Security taxes."

Percy said the tax cut plan would help businesses by providing new incentives for investment.

"The bill lays the groundwork for new growth and new jobs by reducing corporate tax rates and increasing investment returns."

Percy said the bill contains none of the tax increases offered in the administration's tax proposal.

Anderson survives toughest campaign

By ROBERT ESTILL
Press-Record

Washington Bureau

The New Right's Sunday punch was deftly countered by Republican Rep. John B. Anderson in a primary contest with repercussions beyond his northwestern Illinois district.

In the end, Fundamentalist minister Donald Lyon's challenge to the moderate-to-liberal Rockford Republican served only to set back the GOP right wing and give new hopes to Republican moderates.

Aided by Democratic crossover votes and a backlash to Lyon's ultraconservative appeal, Anderson polled 58 percent of the vote in the most serious threat to his political future since he entered Congress 18 years ago.

The right wing spared few efforts in trying tooust Anderson, his conference chairman, is the third-ranking House Republican.

Conservative fundraiser Richard Viguerie used his computerized mailing lists to draw funds to Lyon and flood the district with anti-Anderson letters.

National conservative groups like the Conservative Political Action Committee, the Conservative Caucus and the Committee for the Survival of a Free Congress sent money.

Leaders attacking Anderson's record were circulated in the district by the National Rifle Association, the Gunowners of America, the National Right to Work Committee and the National Right to Life Committee.

"I had every right wing organization in the country sending mail in here at the time," said Anderson.

They were accusing him of favoring gun registration, homosexuals, gay rights and world government.

"It was the politics of emotion and fear," Congressman Anderson said.

But Anderson believes the tactics backfired.

Olin annual meeting planned in Godfrey

The annual shareholder meeting of Olin Corporation will return to the Midwest this year for the first time since 1964. It will be held at 10:30 a.m. Thursday, April 27, in Hatheway Hall at Lewis and Clark Community College in Godfrey.

East Alton is the location of Olin's largest manufacturing complex, the headquarters, principal mills and casting facilities of the brass group and the ammunition production facilities of the Winchester Group.

More than 5,000 persons are employed at this location. It is the area in which some of the predecessor companies of Olin, including Olin Industries, Inc., were founded.

Also, nearly 5,000 Olin shareholders live in Illinois and Missouri, many of them in this metropolitan area.

The company's most recent annual meetings in the Midwest were in 1968, at the Hotel Sheraton-Jefferson in St. Louis, and in 1964 at the Western Club in East Alton. For the past several years, the meetings have been at the company's headquarters in Stamford, Conn., near New York City.

Presiding at the Godfrey meeting and delivering a report to shareholders will be James F. Towey, chairman and chief executive officer, a native of Wood River who began his business career in the accounting department of the East Alton plant in 1929.

Towey spent several years here in the 1960s as a corporate vice-president and general manager of Olin's Brass Division. He became president and chief executive officer in January 1972 and chairman three months later.

John M. Henske, president, is scheduled to become chief executive officer after the annual meeting, succeeding Towey, who will remain as chairman.

Henske will discuss in detail several of Olin's projects in the fields of chemicals, metals, tax-based paper, cellophane, skis, water treatment, sporting arms and ammunition and homebuilding, illustrating his talk with color slides.

Edward P. Lyons, senior vice-president and chief financial officer, will report on the corporation's financial progress.

The 1978 annual meeting will be held in a theater with close family ties to the corporation. Hatheway Hall was constructed with funds donated by Spencer T. Olin and his wife, the late Ann Whitney Olin, and dedicated in 1963 to the memory of Mrs. Olin's mother, Nora Dell Hatheway Whitney, an early graduate of Monticello College.

Lewis and Clark Community College bought the Monticello College facilities in 1970.

Spencer T. Olin, a son of the founder of the company and a former executive of the corporation himself, no longer is active in the management of Olin Corp. He retired as a member of the board of directors in 1972.

Since Hatheway Hall seats less than 1,000 persons, admission to Olin's annual meeting will be limited to shareholders who have obtained tickets in advance from the secretary of the corporation in Stamford on a first-come, first-served basis.

"We should not allow lengthy debate over so-called tax reforms to prevent prompt action on tax cuts. Taxpayers need help now," he stressed.

The Tax Reduction Act of 1978 would attempt to offset the impact of inflation and higher Social Security taxes for individuals by:

1) Increasing tax brackets, standard deduction, the individual exemption, the earned income credit, and the general credit by six percent for the next three years.

2) Providing a tax credit equal to 10 percent of Social Security contributions.

The Tax Reduction Act of 1978 would seek to improve business confidence and investment incentives by:

1) Reducing the maximum corporate tax rate to 42 percent by 1983.

2) Reducing the tax on the first $200,000 of profits to aid small businesses.

3) Increasing the investment tax credit (ITC) from 10 percent to 12 percent and make it permanent.

4) Making the ITC 25 percent refundable (after offsetting 100 percent of tax liability).

5) Extending the ITC to industrial and commercial structures in high unemployment areas; and

6) Expanding the accelerated depreciation range (ADR) from 20 percent to 40 percent.

Senators Jack Danforth (R-Mo.), Jacob Javits (R-N.Y.), John Chafee (R-R.I.), Dick Lugar (R-Ind.) and Ted Stevens (R-Alaska) joined in introducing the tax reduction act.

The Madison County Board has granted a special use permit to Jean McDaniel to continue to use an existing barn at 5209 Maryville Road, for the boarding of up to 25 horses.

The property is in an R-3 single-family residential district of Chouteau Township. The permit stipulates that the facility may be operated by the McDaniel family only, and that there be no riding of horses, except in a designated area.

The horses must be kept within the confines of the property and no other commercial activity may be conducted, according to the permit.

The board also granted a special use permit to Walter E. Griffith Jr. and Bernice Teller to place a mobile home at 2537 No. St., in an R-3 single-family residential district of Venice Township. The permit is for the sole occupancy of Bernice Teller for up to five years.

Also granted a permit to place a mobile home was Wanda Bennett, who is to place the unit at 3210 Princeton in State Park Place, an R-4 single-family residential district of Nameoki Township. The permit is for up to five years for the Wanda Bennett family only and it is stipulated that problems with the present septic system must be corrected immediately.

Brook, who is active nationally in attempts to open the GOP's ranks, attributed the victory largely to Anderson's appeal to district voters.

The GOP national chairman said he is uncertain of the national implications, except that the race demonstrates that outside judgments cannot be imposed on the electorate.

American Conservative Union chairman Philip Crane, a Republican representative from a northeastern Illinois congressional district, stayed neutral in the race, but he doesn't see it as a setback for the right wing.

He attributes the victory to Anderson's own skills and adds that "58 percent is not all that reassuring." He said the right wing has served notice that the Republican liberals will not get a free ride again.

But moderate Republicans have found cause for joy in Anderson's win.

Because of the amount of money and energy invested by the right wing in the Lyon campaign, Anderson's win is a significant victory for the moderates, said Glenn Gersell, president of the National Rifle Society. The society is composed of progressive Republicans who favor moderates of Anderson's stripe.

Amendment is being urged to repeal the order to replace corporate personal tax

By DOUGLAS L. WHITLEY
Executive Vice President Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois

An amendment to Article IX of the Illinois Constitution of 1970, approved by the voters in December 1970, removed the ad valorem personal property tax from individuals.

The framers of the Constitution of 1970 chose to leave the subject of corporate personal property tax replacement for the Illinois legislature to resolve. Article IX, Section 5(c) states:

"On or before Jan. 1, 1979, the General Assembly by law shall abolish all ad valorem personal property taxes and concurrently therewith and thereafter shall replace all revenue lost by units of local government and school districts as a result of the abolition of ad valorem taxes on real estate, solely on those classes relieved of the burden of paying ad valorem personal property taxes because of the abolition of such taxes subsequent to Jan. 2, 1971.

"If any taxes imposed for such replacement purposes are taxes on or measured by income, such replacement taxes shall not be considered for the purpose of the limitations of one tax and the ratio of 8 to 5 set forth in Section 3(a) of this article."

The years have passed. No solution has been found and no legislative action has been taken.

The deadline established by the Constitution draws near. The General Assembly has three courses of action available to it. The legislature may pass a proposed constitutional amendment, prepare legislation which provides a package of replacement taxes, or do nothing.

When the Illinois General Assembly returns for the 1978 spring session, the Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois will support a constitutional amendment to repeal the requirement that corporate personal property taxes be replaced by Jan. 1, 1979.

Some will say the passage of a constitutional amendment is the course of least resistance. That may be true, but there are other advantages.

The first concern of taxpayers and taxing districts alike is that of stability—the ability to know how much the tax bill will be or, conversely, how much the revenues will be.

The constitutional amendment would provide that stability by maintaining the status quo. Corporate taxpayers would continue to pay in 1979, just as they have in prior years.

The governor and the legislature need flexibility in the state tax structure. Currently, there is no flexibility in the area of corporate personal property taxes in Illinois. The Constitution requires that any corporate personal property tax which is removed must be replaced by a tax on the same taxpayers which will generate approximately the same amount of revenue.

The Illinois Supreme Court has upheld this interpretation in its decisions in the cases of American National Bank & Trust Company of Chicago v. Kusper, 69 Ill. 2d 374 (1976); Hanley v. Kusper, 61 Ill. 2d 452 (1976); and Elk Grove Engineering Co. v. Korzen, 55 Ill. 2d 393 (1973). There can be no flexibility under such restraint.

For example, there are three bills (Senate Bill 736 and House Bills 1812 and 2706) before the General Assembly which would provide sales tax exemptions on new machinery or equipment purchased for the purpose of manufacturing.

The reason these bills are viable is that they provide some semblance of concern for the Illinois business community and indicate an interest in countering the business tax exemptions of other states.

The bills appear to be significant, but in fact they provide minimal tax incentives because more than two-thirds of the states in the Union presently do not tax machinery at all.

Only California and Illinois of the major industrial states tax business machinery. Yet, Illinois is unable to make any change in this tax structure because machinery is corporate personal property, and the door is closed to this area. That is why Illinois legislators must seek alternative proposals such as sales tax exemptions.

The constitutional amendment would not remove any corporate personal property taxes, but passage would provide a governor or a member of the General Assembly the flexibility to plan and initiate specific proposals to improve the Illinois economy. The Illinois Fiscal Commission, chaired by Richard L. Thomas, president, First National Bank of Chicago, was created by Governor James R. Thompson to study and analyze trends and make recommendations designed to improve the economic and fiscal outlook of Illinois.

The commission addressed the matter of corporate personal property tax replacement in its final report to the governor issued Dec. 2, 1977, as follows:

"A particularly troubling aspect of the Illinois tax situation is the replacement of the personal property tax as called for in the 1970 Constitution.

It is a matter of great urgency that the legislature act on this issue in a responsible and expeditious manner, thereby removing the related uncertainties about the business climate in the state.

"If appropriate alternatives to the personal property tax cannot be agreed upon in the very near future, then action should be taken to remove the constitutional mandate for replacement of this tax by Jan. 1, 1979."

The Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois would suggest that the "very near future" has passed. Consequently, we stress the commission's conclusions that "action should be taken to remove the constitutional mandate."

The second alternative which the General Assembly has is to pass legislation which provides for a package of taxes to replace the lost personal property tax revenue.

Such legislation was introduced in the 1977 session. It was reviewed by a subcommittee.

A replacement package would require a collection of taxes which would be acceptable to all the various interests. However, the likelihood of such universal agreement is remote.

Most spokesmen testifying at the meetings of the House subcommittee studying this subject stated they would rather pay the current personal property tax than take chances with the replacement package.

Those who testified were wary of the uncertainty a new tax package might bring. At least, now, taxpayers know what is expected and are able to comply.

The old adage, "It depends on whose ox is being gored," has been very apparent.

One spokesman expressed concern that a replacement package provides the greatest opportunity for political manipulation, particularly the removal or additions of special interest taxation.

As an example, he suggested it was doubtful there would be a tax on partnerships, such as would fall on attorneys and accountants.

If the legislature takes no action there could be much confusion among taxpayers and taxing bodies. The tax system would probably suffer delays.

A great deal of personal property tax would undoubtedly be paid under protest, forcing the local county treasurers to hold in escrow tax funds which would normally be available.

Obviously, if the legislature fails to act, the constitutional question of whether or not the corporate personal property tax remains on taxpayers after Jan. 1, 1979, will go to the courts.

In the Federation's opinion, the previously stated Supreme Court cases would suggest the corporate personal property taxes would remain, absent legislative action.

In Elk Grove Engineering Co. v. Korzen, the court said, "...the General Assembly must concurrently replace all revenue lost by units of local government and school districts by imposing statewide taxes solely on those classes relieved of the burden of the taxes abolished.

"This latter provision is not self-executing but requires legislation to carry it into effect."

There are two difficulties with the constitutional amendment. First, if the legislature passes a constitutional amendment the matter goes directly to the people for a vote in the November 1978 general election for approval. Thus, a substantial job of education and persuasion would need to be undertaken on a very complicated question.

However, the immediate difficulty which faces the General Assembly is that—in order for a constitutional amendment to appear on the ballot—it must be approved by both houses six months prior to the general election.

The Illinois General Assembly returns to session on April 5. In order to meet the six-month requirement, the constitutional amendment must be approved by May 7.

There is precious little time to act.

Cannabis charge

Karl R. Chism, 22, of 2557 Madison Ave., was charged Monday with unlawful possession of cannabis for allegedly having a plastic bag of cannabis in a pocket when he was questioned during the weekend by officers.

Chism was brought to the police station for questioning after Michael Baggett, 21, of 2650 State St., was shot in the back of the head near Curt's Grill, 1623 Madison Ave., Saturday, but Chism later was cleared of suspicion in that case.

Police alleged finding alcohol in his auto and charged him with unlawful transportation of liquor and not having valid registration for his car. The cannabis charge was added Monday.
